A Visit to Berlin.
Lesson For America.
21 Billions on Credit.
Payne Whitney's Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

A QUARTER of a million Germans saw the Bellanca plane, Chamberlin, the pilot, and Levine in Berlin yesterday. It was a friendly crowd, all war bitterness forgotten, far better than the other trip with bayonets and cannon, that nations were eagerly planning a few years ago.

LET'S hope this country will henceforth keep out of Europe's quarrels. That continent, for years to come, will not be safe from war. There is danger of an outbreak now in the Balkans. Albania complaining bitterly, threatens trouble.

A YOUNG czarist, in Warsaw, assassinated M. Voikoff, soviet minister to Poland. The assassin, Boris Koverko, 18 years old, says he murdered Voikoff for his share in killing the czar. That may mean trouble for Europe.

ENGLAND complains bitterly that the French secretly buy British gold to bolster the franc, thus threatening the world's financial balance.

France and England will never fight, if only because the French air fleet could destroy London a few hours after war started. But there is still bitterness everywhere.

AMERICANS should take to heart the lesson that Lindbergh and Chamberlin have taught us and get ready to keep hostile flyers away from this continent.

Five or ten thousand first-class planes, carrying mail parcels and passengers in peace, ready to take on machine guns in war, would be the best investment this rich nation could make.

THE great thing for prosperity is credit which stimulates sales, business and prosperity. It is the moving dollar that helps, not the stagnant dollar. Mr. Hewitt of Baltimore, vice-president of Retail Credit Men's association, says we have sepnt so far in 1927 forty-two thousand million dollars in retail purchases, half of it on credit. Without that spending of twenty-one billions on credit, prosperity would look peaked.

Stage Actress Victim of Gorilla-Like Fiend

Man Uses Razor Blade to Carve Letter "K" Seven Times on Body of Doris Dore.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 9.—Doris Dore, 21-year-old stage actress, was the victim of a gorilla-like fiend who early today used a razor blade to carve the letter "K" seven times on her body.

Miss Dore told police she was awakened by a knock at her apartment door. When she answered the summons she was overpowered by a giant of a man who held her helpless while he slashed the letter "K" on her forehead.

As she struggled to free herself from the vice-like grip, her attacker drew the blade across her chin and then carved his brand four times on her chest. He next slashed her forearms and the backs of her hands.

Later Miss Dore gave police the description of a man who she said had followed her across the continent after she had signed her name in a spirit of daring to a paper he presented to her at a gay Greenwich Village party in New York nearly two years ago.

The actress was removed to her apartment where swathed in bandages, she told an amazing story of persecution by the man who she says slashed her.

Edward, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Swickard, of Glenmoor, was perhaps fatally injured when struck by a northbound Youngstown and Ohio River interurban car while crossing the tracks near his home at 9:45 o'clock this morning. The car, enroute from East Liverpool to Lisbon, rounded a sharp curve in the tracks near the Swickard home just as the baby was between the rails. Motorman Raymond Baker, Leetonia, applied the brakes and reversed the power in a vain effort to stop the car.

The father of the child who was a passenger on the car, picked up the baby who was found lyin between the rails and ran with him to the Lincoln highway where he was placed in an automobile, belonging to Howard Chamberlain, Glenmoor automobile dealer, and rushed to the City hospital.

Part of the skull bone was driven into the child's brain and an operation was performed in an effort to save the victim's life. His right foot was severed, when the wheels of the interurban car passed over it.

Chamberlin and Levine will hop off at 8 o'clock Sunday morning for Vienna, stopping for a few hours enroute at Munich. They are due in Vienna at 5:30 in the afternoon.

It is possible that the airmen may visit Rome and maybe Budapest before their return next week to greet their wives, who are due to reach this city on June 16.

Many fresh honors are in store for Chamberlin and his flying companion before they set out to "swing round the European circle" in the Columbia.

They will be made honorary citizens of Berlin by the municipal council and it is likely that streets will be named after them and after the monoplane Columbia by the grateful aldermen.

UNCLE SAM BEGINS PUTTING FINISHING TOUCHES UPON ARRANGEMENTS FOR GREETING CAPTAIN LINDBERGH AS CRUISER NEARS CAPITAL

BY WILLIAM HILLMAN.

ABOARD S. S. MEMPHIS, June 9.—The cruiser Memphis, hastening to Washington with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh aboard for a national reception in honor of the flier, was 892 miles from the Washington navy yard at 8 a. m., eastern daylight time, today.

The Memphis is making 21.8 knots an hour in a calm sea.

Colonel Lindbergh arose later than usual this morning. He sat up late last night writing letters to friends in Detroit and St. Louis to be mailed as soon as the Memphis docks.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER MEMPHIS, June 9.—The United States government today began putting the finishing touches upon the arrangements for the greeting of Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, the plucky young mail plane pilot who flew from New York to Paris, and who is coming home upon this warship.

The navy department asked the exact location of the Memphis in order to have the navy dirigible Los Angeles greet the craft at sea.

There has been modification of the program for destroyers to meet and escort the Memphis, according to radiograms from Washington. One of the six destroyers sent out to escort the Memphis will come up with the cruiser at dawn tomorrow morning and take off the films and "still" pictures taken aboard the Memphis, to rush them to New York.

Another destroyer will leave the operating base at Hampton Roads today to bring Richard R. Blythe, a committee which backed the flight, friend of Lindbergh's and the New York representative of the St. Louis

Destroyers to Meet Memphis.

Blythe will be brought on board the Memphis to consult with Lindbergh upon plans for his return to St. Louis, where a great reception awaits him. On the same destroyer will be a corps of newspaper reporters and photographers, but they will not be permitted to come aboard the cruiser.

This destroyer will return to Hampton Roads, but four other destroyers will meet the Memphis aproximately 50 miles off the Virginia Capes about 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will later be joined by two others.

In addition to Blythe customs officials will come aboard the Memphis to prepare for the landing.

The Memphis is expected to reach Cape Henry at 4 p. m. Friday and to reach the Washington navy yard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Lindbergh will go ashore at once to be greeted first by his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, and then by President and Mrs. Coolidge and a large delegation of officials.

UNCLE SAM BEGINS PUTTING FINISHING TOUCHES UPON ARRANGEMENTS FOR GREETING CAPTAIN LINDBERGH AS CRUISER NEARS CAPITAL

BY WILLIAM HILLMAN.

ABOARD S. S. MEMPHIS, June 9.—The cruiser Memphis, hastening to Washington with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh aboard for a national reception in honor of the flier, was 892 miles from the Washington navy yard at 8 a. m., eastern daylight time, today.

The Memphis is making 21.8 knots an hour in a calm sea.

Colonel Lindbergh arose later than usual this morning. He sat up late last night writing letters to friends in Detroit and St. Louis to be mailed as soon as the Memphis docks.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER MEMPHIS, June 9.—The United States government today began putting the finishing touches upon the arrangements for the greeting of Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, the plucky young mail plane pilot who flew from New York to Paris, and who is coming home upon this warship.

The navy department asked the exact location of the Memphis in order to have the navy dirigible Los Angeles greet the craft at sea.

There has been modification of the program for destroyers to meet and escort the Memphis, according to radiograms from Washington. One of the six destroyers sent out to escort the Memphis will come up with the cruiser at dawn tomorrow morning and take off the films and "still" pictures taken aboard the Memphis, to rush them to New York.

Another destroyer will leave the operating base at Hampton Roads today to bring Richard R. Blythe, a committee which backed the flight, friend of Lindbergh's and the New York representative of the St. Louis

Destroyers to Meet Memphis.

Blythe will be brought on board the Memphis to consult with Lindbergh upon plans for his return to St. Louis, where a great reception awaits him. On the same destroyer will be a corps of newspaper reporters and photographers, but they will not be permitted to come aboard the cruiser.

This destroyer will return to Hampton Roads, but four other destroyers will meet the Memphis aproximately 50 miles off the Virginia Capes about 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will later be joined by two others.

In addition to Blythe customs officials will come aboard the Memphis to prepare for the landing.

The Memphis is expected to reach Cape Henry at 4 p. m. Friday and to reach the Washington navy yard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Lindbergh will go ashore at once to be greeted first by his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, and then by President and Mrs. Coolidge and a large delegation of officials.

800 Miles From Cape Henry.

Early today the Memphis was about 800 miles from Cape Henry, speeding in a great circle at [illegible] knots an hour. When the [illegible] rack the Gulf Stream, w[illegible]am encounters the La[illegible]nt from the north, there [illegible]op of 18 degrees in temperature and those on board had to bundle up a little warmer.

Lindbergh is entirely ready for the "ordeal," which awaits him in America. He knows from the adulation and honors of Europe what to expect at Washington, New York, St. Louis and other cities he may visit immediately after his arrival. But he is "all set."

The bold young aviator is without an offical care upon the [illegible] and is full of boyish enthusiasm for everything he encounters.

At intervals Lindbergh is busy with

Were you to talk to Lowell Sherman about the favorite cigarette for throat protection,

he'd say to you:

Lowell Sherman, one of the stage's greatest favorites

"It is a wonderful thing to realize that an actor can indulge in smoking and at the same time retain the quality of his voice necessary to a good performance. I am happy to say that I have found this to be true with Lucky Strikes. So much so that I smoke them both while on and off the stage."

Lowell Sherman

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Were you to talk to Lowell Sherman

about the favorite cigarette for throat protection, he'd say to you:

Lowell Sherman, one of the stage's greatest favorites

"It is a wonderful thing to realize that an actor can indulge in smoking and at the same time retain the quality of his voice necessary to a good performance. I am happy to say that I have found this to be true with Lucky Strikes. So much so that I smoke them both while on and off the stage."

Lowell Sherman

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

When in New York you are cordially invited to see how Lucky Strikes are made at our exhibit, corner Broadway and 45th Street.

Clicquot Club Ginger Ale

Golden or Pale Dry

TO suit your taste or the time, you need only say "Clicquot Club." And whether your choice be the rich, full-flavored Golden or the delicate Pale Dry, you are sure of the same mellow flavor that is the result of six months' aging . . . . away from light and air.

The name Clicquot Club is your guaranty of the worth of a product whose ingredients are skillfully blended with water of virgin purity from a natural source, and properly aged.

Only the crystal liquid from the famous Clicquot Spring is used in making these two types of the supreme ginger ale. With this, according to a secret formula which cannot be duplicated, are blended the choicest of flavorings. And a six-months' aging gives these ingredients a chance to thoroughly blend into a full flowering of the unequalled Clicquot Club flavor.

All of this is carried out in the spirit of true craftsmanship, and under expert supervision, at every step of the process.

For more than forty years this healthful beverage has been the prime favorite of those who know and appreciate "vintage" ginger ale.

Death Traps

Eleven lives have been sacrificed at bad grade crossings in two states in two months.

Four persons were killed and four others injured, when an automobile was wrecked by the Pittsburgh-Bellaire flyer on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad at the Barclay crossing, near Vanport, Pa., nine miles east of here, Sunday night.

Seven other deaths have occurred at a crossing near an Ohio city.

Both crossings, which have many understudies in other parts of the country, have been recognized as death traps. The Pennsylvania Railroad company and state highway department have arranged to eliminate the Barclay trap by erecting an overhead structure.

If human beings were invariably careful and wise drivers, the menace of grade crossings would be greatly reduced. Unfortunately they are not. And there are unforeseeable accidents which may happen even to careful drivers. That is why grade crossings should not be.

The elimination of all the existing grade crossings in the country would be a tremendously costly piece of work. Yet it should be undertaken. In the meantime, all such crossings should be protected by gates or other adequate devices so that the careless driver and his helpless companions will be saved in spite of themselves. And wherever future construction of roads or railway lines is planned, the grade crossing should be left out entirely. Subway or overhead passage should be the rule.

The Benevolent Circle

A miracle should be no less a splendid thing when it is explained. The United States has been regarded in recent years as the scene of an "economic miracle" because it has been able to maintain high wages and full employment in a period of falling prices. That is regarded as contrary to the economic law that rising prices are essential to industrial prosperity.

Now that the National Industrial Conference Board has offered an explanation for the miraculous situation, it is found that economic law, not fully understood before, really fits the case and all is as it should be.

The average production per employe in manufacturing industries in this country has been increased 35 per cent in the period between 1914 and 1925. Increased production made possible both high wages and falling prices. The high wages increased the purchasing power of the nation. High wages also necessitated steps on the part of manufacturers to increase efficiency in management and equipment. The whole thing goes around in a benevolent circle. Meditation upon these facts, understanding of them and application of the economic law so revealed will help to maintain this "miraculous" prosperity.

Love And Insanity

Judd Gray, according to Dr. Alex Hershfeld, state alienist of Illinois, "is not insane—just a fool."

That is evidently what the jury thought when it found him guilty of first degree murder.

True, Dr. Hershfeld says, Gray may have committed this crime under the influence of an obsession—caused by love. But that does not make him crazy. "Domination of one person by another through love is quite possible, love being a strange thing. But it does not constitute insanity in the case of a man sane from every other view-point."

In other words, people who do crazy things under the influence of love are not really crazy, but only acting as if they were so. This may seem to be a sort of distinction without a difference, but intelligent people will get the point of it. In fact, victims themselves usually appreciate their position pretty well. The man who says he's "crazy about" a woman, and acts the part, still shows his essential sanity. The insane man doesn't know he's insane.

The Balloon Race

For the fourth consecutive time Ward T. Van Orman has won the national balloon race. The distance he traversed last week was 727 miles.

Balloons seem antiquated and futile compared with airplanes—compared even with dirigibles. Still, many a valuable point about air currents and conditions may yet be discovered by means of them. As means of useful travel, they have long been thrown into the discard. But as tools of research, they may still have their value..

What Is News

A few events overshadowed in the news by international interest in Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Levine—Stresemann and Tchitcherin met to discuss the Anglo-Russian break, the Averescu cabinet fell at Bucharest, Jugoslavia and Albania broke off diplomatic relations, the Poincare cabinet faced a crosis, complicated affairs in China became more complicated.

But who cares? Three brave men have safely spanned the Atlantic in airplanes. Hooray!

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 9. — Thoughts at a first night: The curious lined up in the lobby. Flowers for the star and a few lesser luminaries. The harried expression of the producer. Old folks come early. The "angel" trying to appear don't-carish.

Coiffed heads. Exhilarating silks. Glistening shirt fronts. The usual handful who forget their tickets. The peek little straw-colored men who trot in the wake of dowagers. Huge feathered fans heavily sprayed with chypre. Tweeded young men who write lyrics.

Plush ladies who drfit to the smoking room for one more "drag." The tautness back stage. And the Cyclopean eyes at the curtain peep hole. Texas Guinan and her brother Tommy. The austerity of the lorgnons in the boxes. Those who seem to flutter down the aisles and those who lumber.

Karl Kitchen getting gray—that is what is left. The doctors who sit on the aisle. Faintly suggesting odors of the consulting room. The critics who settle back in their chairs as though making the best of a bad bargain. The "show offs" who have their girl friends sit directly in front of them. Women who continually feel at necklace clasps. Those haughty cardboard ladies who glare when disturbed by new arrivals. At the back rail "The Death Watch" and the claque.

The scraping of fiddles and the muted whining of horns. The self consciousness of the trap drummer. And the grand entrance of the leader with his white gloves. The wave of restlessness in the gallery and the flashing light for the overture.

Mayor Walker—late as usual. And the usual applause. George Jean Nathan seems to sneak into his seat. Late diners who spoil every opening scene. The intermission with its rush to the sidewalk. And after the final curtain those old ladies in black with cotton gloves and pink packets of gum.

Even the most calloused producer lives in dread of a premiere. A smooth perfomance is almost impossible and the most trivial incident may upset the play and subject it to critical scorn. Recently in the middle of an act a prop wall mirror plopped to the floor with a thud. There was no way to rescue it and it happened during the tense pivotal moment of the play. All that followed was almost entirely shorn of interest. Distract an audience and it is lost.

A restaurateur writes me that Ham Hawaiian has become the second most popular dish in town. The minute steak leads. Ham Hawiian is fried ham with a slice of pineapple cooked on top.

From the ad of a face lifting doctor: "Acquire the creamy satin air of the perpetual bride." Sounds swell.

It is noticed that all the face liftings are not jelling properly. One man tells of meeting two ladies who are so changed that even old friends do not recognize them at first glance. Usually sour, they appear to be grinning all the time, he says.

There is one also who at a distance resembles Carmen with a rose between her teeth. But closer there is revealed a huge strawberry blur on her cheek caused by some chemical reaction.

Sign on a 14th street window: "The man who gave our waitress a plugged half dollar may be pleased to learn it was taken out of her salary." If that doesn't bring the rascal to his knees nothing will.

TOUCHING ON PRAYER

I like the tale of little Hazel who went to bed one night, all tired out but first she knelt at her bedside and said: "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep." At the conclusion, following the parental injunction, she asked the Lord to bless all the members of the family. It was a very large family. Wearily the child plodded along through the list until she had named the last cousin.

Then with an air of weary relief she rose from her knees.

"I wish I had the kind of kinsfolks that could pray for themselves," she said.

Of somewhat similar tenor is one relating to a small boy who for a flagrant offense against discipline had felt the material slipper.

Through the day he nursed a desire for vengeance. His chance came at night.

According to routine, he knelt and prayed, winding up with an invocation on behalf of all his relatives. But there was one name he did not include.

As he straightened after the long-drawn "Amen," he fixed a look of triumph upon the maternal form.

"There, now," he remarked. "I hope you noticed you wasn't in it!"

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Counterfeiters and the New Currency.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 9.—The decision of the Treasury department to reduce the size of United States currency is expected to result in an increased effort on the part of counterfeiters to pass their spurious product upon the public. They have their plates made and many have substantial supplies of printed currency on hand. Counterfeiters usually pass out their wares rather gingerly; that it, the experienced ones do, knowing that to flood the market at any one time or place invites apprehension.

With currency of new design and especially of a reduced size to be issued by the government, the old plates and ready-printed currency will become obsolete, so caution will be partially set aside to get rid of stocks on hand and make the fullest practicable use of the plates before the appearance of the new money.

The actual counterfeiters very rarely pass any of their own product. Being sufficiently clever men to be able to imitate currency, they also have wit enough to know that it is best to work in the dark. Persons with the criminal instinct necessary to the use of spurious money but lacking the skill to produce it from a brotherhood or a trade all by itself. They are, of course, in league with the counterfeiters. They buy the counterfeit money for a low price, depending to some extent on the bargining ability of the respective prties and also upon the quality of the spurious product. The price of a five dollar counterfeit may run anywhere from one to three dollars. The professional passer, of course, puts the money into circulation at its full face value.

Passers and counterfeiters have each other pretty much in each other's power as either is in a position to inform on the crime of the other. In consequence they are careful of their dealings.

In recent years counterfeiting has altered to some extent. While new money constantly is being made, there has been a tendency to turn more to the raising of the denominations of genuine notes. The numeral on a five-dollar bill, for instance, will be skilfully changed, making it into a fifty-dollar bill. A ten becomes a hundred-dollar bill.

Modern Methods Are Used.

Investigations of the Secret Service show that the profession of counterfeiting has marched with the times and that modern methods are being used very extensively. There are few if any more of the old hand-engraved counterfeits appearing. Photo-lithography has taken the place of the hand work. If done with skill such a counterfeit is indeed dangerous as there are not present the differences in detail which often didentify a hand-copied note design.

The camera is the basis of practically all counterfeiting operations among the modern fraternity and increasing skill is required on the part of the secret service to detect the work of the better craftsmen.

Distinctive paper remains one of the principal safeguards of United States currency. Death Traps

Eleven lives have been sacrificed at bad grade crossings in two states in two months.

Four persons were killed and four others injured, when an automobile was wrecked by the Pittsburgh-Bellaire flyer on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad at the Barclay crossing, near Vanport, Pa., nine miles east of here, Sunday night.

Seven other deaths have occurred at a crossing near an Ohio city.

Both crossings, which have many understudies in other parts of the country, have been recognized as death traps. The Pennsylvania Railroad company and state highway department have arranged to eliminate the Barclay trap by erecting an overhead structure.

If human beings were invariably careful and wise drivers, the menace of grade crossings would be greatly reduced. Unfortunately they are not. And there are unforeseeable accidents which may happen even to careful drivers. That is why grade crossings should not be.

The elimination of all the existing grade crossings in the country would be a tremendously costly piece of work. Yet it should be undertaken. In the meantime, all such crossings should be protected by gates or other adequate devices so that the careless driver and his helpless companions will be saved in spite of themselves. And wherever future construction of roads or railway lines is planned, the grade crossing should be left out entirely. Subway or overhead passage should be the rule.

The Benevolent Circle

A miracle should be no less a splendid thing when it is explained. The United States has been regarded in recent years as the scene of an "economic miracle" because it has been able to maintain high wages and full employment in a period of falling prices. That is regarded as contrary to the economic law that rising prices are essential to industrial prosperity.

Now that the National Industrial Conference Board has offered an explanation for the miraculous situation, it is found that economic law, not fully understood before, really fits the case and all is as it should be.

The average production per employe in manufacturing industries in this country has been increased 35 per cent in the period between 1914 and 1925. Increased production made possible both high wages and falling prices. The high wages increased the purchasing power of the nation. High wages also necessitated steps on the part of manufacturers to increase efficiency in management and equipment. The whole thing goes around in a benevolent circle. Meditation upon these facts, understanding of them and application of the economic law so revealed will help to maintain this "miraculous" prosperity.

Love And Insanity

Judd Gray, according to Dr. Alex Hershfeld, state alienist of Illinois, "is not insane—just a fool."

That is evidently what the jury thought when it found him guilty of first degree murder.

True, Dr. Hershfeld says, Gray may have committed this crime under the influence of an obsession—caused by love. But that does not make him crazy. "Domination of one person by another through love is quite possible, love being a strange thing. But it does not constitute insanity in the case of a man sane from every other view-point."

In other words, people who do crazy things under the influence of love are not really crazy, but only acting as if they were so. This may seem to be a sort of distinction without a difference, but intelligent people will get the point of it. In fact, victims themselves usually appreciate their position pretty well. The man who says he's "crazy about" a woman, and acts the part, still shows his essential sanity. The insane man doesn't know he's insane.

The Balloon Race

For the fourth consecutive time Ward T. Van Orman has won the national balloon race. The distance he traversed last week was 727 miles.

Balloons seem antiquated and futile compared with airplanes—compared even with dirigibles. Still, many a valuable point about air currents and conditions may yet be discovered by means of them. As means of useful travel, they have long been thrown into the discard. But as tools of research, they may still have their value.

What Is News

A few events overshadowed in the news by international interest in Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Levine—Stresemann and Tchitcherin met to discuss the Anglo-Russian break, the Averescu cabinet fell at Bucharest, Jugoslavia and Albania broke off diplomatic relations, the Poincare cabinet faced a crosis, complicated affairs in China became more complicated.

But who cares? Three brave men have safely spanned the Atlantic in airplanes. Hooray!

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 9. — Thoughts at a first night: The curious lined up in the lobby. Flowers for the star and a few lesser luminaries. The harried expression of the producer. Old folks come early. The "angel" trying to appear don't-carish.

Coiffed heads. Exhilarating silks. Glistening shirt fronts. The usual handful who forget their tickets. The peek little straw-colored men who trot in the wake of dowagers. Huge feathered fans heavily sprayed with chypre. Tweeded young men who write lyrics.

Plush ladies who drfit to the smoking room for one more "drag." The tautness back stage. And the Cyclopean eyes at the curtain peep hole. Texas Guinan and her brother Tommy. The austerity of the lorgnons in the boxes. Those who seem to flutter down the aisles and those who lumber.

Karl Kitchen getting gray—that is what is left. The doctors who sit on the aisle. Faintly suggesting odors of the consulting room. The critics who settle back in their chairs as though making the best of a bad bargain. The "show offs" who have their girl friends sit directly in front of them. Women who continually feel at necklace clasps. Those haughty cardboard ladies who glare when disturbed by new arrivals. At the back rail "The Death Watch" and the claque.

The scraping of fiddles and the muted whining of horns. The self consciousness of the trap drummer. And the grand entrance of the leader with his white gloves. The wave of restlessness in the gallery and the flashing light for the overture.

Mayor Walker—late as usual. And the usual applause. George Jean Nathan seems to sneak into his seat. Late diners who spoil every opening scene. The intermission with its rush to the sidewalk. And after the final curtain those old ladies in black with cotton gloves and pink packets of gum.

Even the most calloused producer lives in dread of a premiere. A smooth perfomance is almost impossible and the most trivial incident may upset the play and subject it to critical scorn. Recently in the middle of an act a prop wall mirror plopped to the floor with a thud. There was no way to rescue it and it happened during the tense pivotal moment of the play. All that followed was almost entirely shorn of interest. Distract an audience and it is lost.

A restaurateur writes me that Ham Hawaiian has become the second most popular dish in town. The minute steak leads. Ham Hawiian is fried ham with a slice of pineapple cooked on top.

From the ad of a face lifting doctor: "Acquire the creamy satin air of the perpetual bride." Sounds swell.

It is noticed that all the face liftings are not jelling properly. One man tells of meeting two ladies who are so changed that even old friends do not recognize them at first glance. Usually sour, they appear to be grinning all the time, he says.

There is one also who at a distance resembles Carmen with a rose between her teeth. But closer there is revealed a huge strawberry blur on her cheek caused by some chemical reaction.

Sign on a 14th street window: "The man who gave our waitress a plugged half dollar may be pleased to learn it was taken out of her salary." If that doesn't bring the rascal to his knees nothing will.

TOUCHING ON PRAYER

I like the tale of little Hazel who went to bed one night, all tired out but first she knelt at her bedside and said: "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep." At the conclusion, following the parental injunction, she asked the Lord to bless all the members of the family. It was a very large family. Wearily the child plodded along through the list until she had named the last cousin.

Then with an air of weary relief she rose from her knees.

"I wish I had the kind of kinsfolks that could pray for themselves," she said.

Of somewhat similar tenor is one relating to a small boy who for a flagrant offense against discipline had felt the material slipper.

Through the day he nursed a desire for vengeance. His chance came at night.

According to routine, he knelt and prayed, winding up with an invocation on behalf of all his relatives. But there was one name he did not include.

As he straightened after the long-drawn "Amen," he fixed a look of triumph upon the maternal form.

"There, now," he remarked. "I hope you noticed you wasn't in it!"

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Counterfeiters and the New Currency.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 9.—The decision of the Treasury department to reduce the size of United States currency is expected to result in an increased effort on the part of counterfeiters to pass their spurious product upon the public. They have their plates made and many have substantial supplies of printed currency on hand. Counterfeiters usually pass out their wares rather gingerly; that it, the experienced ones do, knowing that to flood the market at any one time or place invites apprehension.

With currency of new design and especially of a reduced size to be issued by the government, the old plates and ready-printed currency will become obsolete, so caution will be partially set aside to get rid of stocks on hand and make the fullest practicable use of the plates before the appearance of the new money.

The actual counterfeiters very rarely pass any of their own product. Being sufficiently clever men to be able to imitate currency, they also have wit enough to know that it is best to work in the dark. Persons with the criminal instinct necessary to the use of spurious money but lacking the skill to produce it from a brotherhood or a trade all by itself. They are, of course, in league with the counterfeiters. They buy the counterfeit money for a low price, depending to some extent on the bargining ability of the respective prties and also upon the quality of the spurious product. The price of a five dollar counterfeit may run anywhere from one to three dollars. The professional passer, of course, puts the money into circulation at its full face value.

Passers and counterfeiters have each other pretty much in each other's power as either is in a position to inform on the crime of the other. In consequence they are careful of their dealings.

In recent years counterfeiting has altered to some extent. While new money constantly is being made, there has been a tendency to turn more to the raising of the denominations of genuine notes. The numeral on a five-dollar bill, for instance, will be skilfully changed, making it into a fifty-dollar bill. A ten becomes a hundred-dollar bill.

Modern Methods Are Used.

Investigations of the Secret Service show that the profession of counterfeiting has marched with the times and that modern methods are being used very extensively. There are few if any more of the old hand-engraved counterfeits appearing. Photo-lithography has taken the place of the hand work. If done with skill such a counterfeit is indeed dangerous as there are not present the differences in detail which often didentify a hand-copied note design.

The camera is the basis of practically all counterfeiting operations among the modern fraternity and increasing skill is required on the part of the secret service to detect the work of the better craftsmen.

Distinctive paper remains one of the principal safeguards of United States currency. This paper, manufactured by a private corporation for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, is guarded as carefully as stocks of finished notes. In fact there is reason for guarding it more closely. The paper which might be used for printing five-dollar notes could, if it fell into the hands of a counterfeiter, be employed for printing thousand-dollar notes. DRY AGENTS IN GUN FIRE

Arrest One, Locate Still Following Rifle Battle.

As the result of a raid on a farm near Parlette, Jefferson county, yesterday, at Steubenville, Dan Enic, 42, is in the county jail, Justice of the Peace John Dunham, Hammondsville, O., is nursing serious burns and dry agents are seeking a moonshiner believed to have been wounded in a rifle battle.

The raid was led by State Inspector George Baynham and officers from the dry court at Hammondsville. As the raiders approached the farm, two men fled into a nearby wood and opened fire on the officers with rifles. Baynham returned the fire. He declared tonight he saw one of the men fall and then limp away. The raiders located a cave, in which they found a fifty-gallon still and Enic, who, it is alleged, was in charge of operations. A quantity of gasoline exploded and Justice Dunham was burned on the hands, face and arms. Enic was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond after a preliminary hearing before Justice Edward Lucas here.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 9.—Roy and Ray De Autremont, twins captured here late yesterday, after a world-wide search, following the holdup and dynamiting of a Southern Pacific railroad train on October 11, 1923, when three members of the train crew and one mail clerk were killed, were to be arraigned here sometime today, before U. Federal Operative E. E. Conroy and police who made the capture would not announce the time, for fear of an immense gathering when the two are taken from the jail to the federal court house.

Following the arraignment they will be taken to Oregon for trial, it was announced.

Ray has been married since the Oregon holdup and is the father of one child. His brother lived with him in the outskirts of the city.

She said she met him in Ironton, Ohio, and that they were married after knowing each other only a short time. He was known to her as Clarence Goodwin and Roy as Elmer Goodwin. The two are to be questioned further today. When grilled last night, they signed their names and admitted their identity, but at that time were not asked for a confession of the crime.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 9.—The railroad stocks, of both the investment and the speculative type, forged to the front as the leaders of a brisk forward movement at the beginning of trading today. With Lehigh Valley, Illinois Central, Reading and Baltimore & Ohio leading the investment rails, and Wabash and Ontario & Western the non-dividend speculative rails, railroad stocks again held the dominant position in the market. Texas and Pacific, New Haven and Missouri Pcific continued to forge ahead.

In excess of a million cars of revenue freight were loaded by the American railroads last week, making tho eighth consecutive million-car week. This was probably not as important a factor in the market today as the renewed buying of the stocks by powerful financial interests for various purposes, with ultimate re-grouping of roads in view. Acquisition of Lehigh Valley was attributed to "First National bank" financiers, under the lead of George F. Baker, who has always taken an active interest in the affairs of that road.

The industrial stocks and most of the specialties were comparatively quiet and featureless with motor and oil stocks receiving some attention. A few new low-priced specialties were brought forward and pushed upward a point or two in active trading. But special weakness appeared in other sections of the list, attended with new declines in U. S. Rubber, American Woolen, Radio Corporation and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

The outside markets were steady, and commodity markets firm. Cotton advanced a dollar a bale, wheat and corn made moderate gains, and coffee was steady. Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent.

DRY AGENTS IN GUN FIRE

Arrest One, Locate Still Following Rifle Battle.

As the result of a raid on a farm near Parlette, Jefferson county, yesterday, at Steubenville, Dan Enic, 42, is in the county jail, Justice of the Peace John Dunham, Hammondsville, O., is nursing serious burns and dry agents are seeking a moonshiner believed to have been wounded in a rifle battle.

The raid was led by State Inspector George Baynham and officers from the dry court at Hammondsville. As the raiders approached the farm, two men fled into a nearby wood and opened fire on the officers with rifles. Baynham returned the fire. He declared tonight he saw one of the men fall and then limp away. The raiders located a cave, in which they found a fifty-gallon still and Enic, who, it is alleged, was in charge of operations. A quantity of gasoline exploded and Justice Dunham was burned on the hands, face and arms. Enic was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond after a preliminary hearing before Justice Edward Lucas here.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 9.—The railroad stocks, of both the investment and the speculative type, forged to the front as the leaders of a brisk forward movement at the beginning of trading today. With Lehigh Valley, Illinois Central, Reading and Baltimore & Ohio leading the investment rails, and Wabash and Ontario & Western the non-dividend speculative rails, railroad stocks again held the dominant position in the market. Texas and Pacific, New Haven and Missouri Pcific continued to forge ahead.

In excess of a million cars of revenue freight were loaded by the American railroads last week, making the eighth consecutive million-car week. This was probably not as important a factor in the market today as the renewed buying of the stocks by powerful financial interests for various purposes, with ultimate re-grouping of roads in view. Acquisition of Lehigh Valley was attributed to "First National bank" financiers, under the lead of George F. Baker, who has always taken an active interest in the affairs of that road.

The industrial stocks and most of the specialties were comparatively quiet and featureless with motor and oil stocks receiving some attention. A few new low-priced specialties were brought forward and pushed upward a point or two in active trading. But special weakness appeared in other sections of the list, attended with new declines in U. S. Rubber, American Woolen, Radio Corporation and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

The outside markets were steady, and commodity markets firm. Cotton advanced a dollar a bale, wheat and corn made moderate gains, and coffee was steady. Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent.

BELLANCA FLYERS DEBATE RETURN AIR VOYAGE

HEARST OFFERS $100,000 FOR SECOND TRIP

Chamberlin and Levine Will Consult Their Wives.

CONSIDER PLAN

Will Study Maps and Determine Best Routes.

BERLIN, June 9.—Neither Clarence A. Chamberlin nor Charles A. Levine have reached a decision on the offer of William Randolph Hearst of $100,000 for a return flight across the Atlantic to New York in the Bellanca plane. They will not make a decision until they have consulted their wives, who are due here next week.

"Everything depends on whether our wives will let us fly back," said Levine today.

"The Hearst prize offer looks fine and I like the idea a great deal, although we didn't at first think of flying back. I would like to fly back but I can't decide immediately."

"I don't know, I can't say yet," said Chamberlin when questioned about the proposal. "I am submerged in technical problems and I will have to think over the possibilities and study the topographical details. We zig-zagged all over Germany and the eastern Atlantic coming over and I don't want to do it again. I must study the maps and determin the best routes."

Both Chamberlin and Levine state they realize the magnitude of being the first to accomplish a non-stop flight to Europe and a non-stop flight return to America and that the chances of accomplishing such an achievement occupy most of their thoughts now.

Chamberlin May Get Brigadier-general Rank in Iowa Guard

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Clarence D. Chamberlin may be made a brigadier-general in the Iowa National Guard.

Governor Hammill of Iowa, after a conference at the White House today, said the question was being considered but some special act may have to be passed as Chamberlin is not a member of the Iowa guard.

Lisbon Youth Held For Court After Auto Disappears

Edward Ruhl, 19, a son of Edward Ridgley, of East Liverpool, was held for the Columbiana county grand jury by Justice M. K. Zimerman today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

Ruhl was alleged to have taken the car of Robert Burson, which was parked along the Lisbon-Leetonia road, Tuesday evening. He was arrested in Lisbon by Constable Clarence Wetzel and Game Warden L. W. Boring, Lisbon, as he was on his way to the fair grounds to attend a dance last evening. He was held in the Lisbon jail overnight and transferred to the county jail following his arraignment.

Ruhl was united with his mother, a Detroit woman, recently after a separation of about 17 years. He and his brother had been placed in the Fairmont Children's home when they were young and when their mother went after them they had been adopted.

The court permitted the young man to return to Detroit with his mother who promised him a home. He recently returned to Lisbon.

Berlin Cheers Fliers

United States government probably will offer a warship for the voyage to America.

The length of the American's stay in Europe is problematical. Chamberlin is anxious to study European commercial aviation at first hand and Levine does not seem in any rush to get back to New York. In view of these circumstances their visit may last beyond a fortnight.

Chamberlin is going to London, but his stay in that city will not be a lengthy one.

Will Visit Plant of Lufthansa.

This afternoon the Americans will be entertained by the Aero club.

Friday will be a big day. They will be guests of the city at an official reception at the city hall. Friday evening they will be guests of honor at a dinner given by Minister of Transport Koch.

Chamberlin will be in his element on Saturday when he and Levine will be shown through the great plant of Lufthansa, Germany's foremost commercial aviation concern.

The visitors, who are traveling over the Lincoln highway, stopped in Lisbon for a few minutes at 4:30 o'clock, then came to East Liverpool where a brief stop was also made. They reached Pittsburgh last evening where they spent the night.

CELINA, O., June 9. — Police and county authorities today were searching for the bandits who held up the First National bank of Ansonia village, south of here, Wednesday afternoon, escaping with $45,000 in government bonds and $4,500 in cash.

Miss Bradley was first elected "Miss Atlanta," and later won the prize as the most beautiful girl in the southern district. This won the attention of movie producers and subsequently a contract was made engaging Miss Bradley to appear in comedies.

100 HURLED FROM BERTHS IN RAIL CRASH

Many Persons Hurt as New York Limited Hits Pullmans.

PANIC AVERTED

Wreck Occurs on Siding at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 9.—One hundred or more passengers were hurled from their berths early today when the New York limited, a crack night express of the New York Central railroad, crashed head on into two pullmans, filled with Rochester passengers, stationed on a siding here waiting to be attached to Boston express 46.

Many persons were slightly bruised but none was seriously injured.

Prompt work on the part of pullman porters, who remained in their cars and reassured the passengers, averted a panic.

All the passengers in the Rochester pullmans were shaken up and about 40 of them required medical attention. Railroad physicians administered to them and found that, beyond bruises and slight lacerations, none of them was seriously hurt.

Porters Calm Passengers.

Many of the passengers on the limited were also thrown to the floor by the impact. The two Rochester pullmans were driven nearly 50 feet by the collision.

Cries of the passengers went up on all sides. Many of the passengers rushed for the exits in night attire. The porters, however, quickly calmed them.

An investigation this morning indicated, it was stated, that the wreck was probably due to an error on the part of a yardman who threw a wrong switch. It was regarded as fortunate that the limited was making slow time when the impact occurred.

The rear platform of one of the Rochester pullmans was considerably damaged.

The wreck occurred shortly before 1 a. m. After an hour's delay, during which time the wreckage was cleared away, the New York limited backed out and proceeded toward its destination. The limited was bound from Cleveland to New York.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Several persons were shaken up and bruised when the New York limited, night express of the New York Central railroad bound from Cleveland to New York, crashed headon into two pullman cars filled with sleeping passengers on a siding near the station at Rochester early today, according to word reaching the company's offices here.

Railroad officials said that a switchtender had thrown it over on the track occupied by the waiting pullmans. The limited was traveling slowly, and the impact of the crash merely shook a number of the sleeping passengers from their berths. No one was seriously hurt.

The limited proceeded to New York.

his future plans and is preparing material for the book which he will write about his flight. Meanwhile radio messages continue to pour in upon the ship from all sections of the world. During the past two days 30 ships that passed within radio distance of the Memphis sent messages of congratulation.

Answers Radiograms.

Lindbergh is meticulous about answering them. Lieut. Gaines, ship's communication officer, declared that the Memphis has handled 40 times the amount of radio traffic usually cared for when the cruiser is acting as flagship of the cruiser fleet.

A staff of seven men have been working day and night receiving messages from all the stations along the American coast. Most of them are letters of congratulation, but many others contain invitations of various kinds. They ranged in length from 25 to 100 or more words.

From early Wednesday morning until last night more than 100 radiograms have been received. Official traffic is greatly increased, also, owing to instructions from the navy department at Washington.

NEW YORK, June 9.—For the first time in the history of New York a decision was handed down today in supreme court holding that a man sentenced to life imprisonment for murder is legally dead and that his wife may inherit his property and may re-marry if she chooses, without divorcing him.

The decision was given by Justice Fawcett on the application of Mrs. Blanche Irene Gallaway Webster, wife of Harold F. Webster, convicted slayer of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway, who was killed in Hempstead last October.

$250,000 FIRE HITS GALION

Metallic Vault Plant Destroyed; 100 Men Out of Employment.

GALION, O., June 9.—More than a hundred men are out of employment here today as a result of the $250,000 fire which destroyed the entire plant of the Galion Metallic Vault company.

Fire fighting apparatus from Mansfield, Bucyrus and Crestline was called after the fire was discovered at 1 a. m. today, and which burned until 7 a. m.

The fire began in a small building of the plant and spread over a wooden factory bridge to the main brick structure.

The Detwiler Manufacturing company, manufacturers of steel auto bodies, occupying a portion of the building, was also destroyed.

Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the municipal electric plant adjacent to the burning building.

The same building was gutted by fire several years ago.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., June 9.—"Queen" Mary Purnell's name today was dragged into the scandal engulfing her husband, "King" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the House of David.

LENGEL HELD AS MAZER GOES FOR SENTENCE

Fifth Arrest Made in Mellett Murder at Canton.

MERCY IS ASKED

Former Chief Denies Any Connection With Plot.

CANTON, O., June 9.—While Seranus A. Lengel, deposed Canton chief of police, was in Stark county jail here today, awaiting arraignment on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Louis Mazer, indicted last fall as one of the Mellett conspirators, was to be sentenced.

Mazer, whose confession to his part in the plot to slay the young editor resulted in the conviction of Floyd Streitenberger and in turn the indictment of Lengel, has thrown himself on the mercy of the court. He is charged with first degree murder, but Common Pleas Judge A. W. Agler, before whom he is scheduled to appear today, probably will not give him a heavy sentence.

Lengel, snow-white haired, 65 year old former chief, who had only one more year to serve before he was eligible for pension, was visited in his cell by W. Bernard Rodgers, young lawyer associated with the law firm with which former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene was identified here.

Arraignment on Saturday.

Lengel is expected to be arraigned Saturday, although Prosecutor Henry W. Harter, Jr., had not decided on the exact date this morning. Harter declared, however, that he will demand a speedy trial, and suggested July 5, as a possible starting date.

"I'll be ready then too," Lengel said. "The sooner the better."

The ex-chief was stoic as he was served with the capias by Sheriff Ed Gibson late yesterday afternoon, shortly after the grand jury had returned the indictment. Gibson found his prisoner sitting on the front porch of his home.

"I've come to arrest you," Gibson said.

"Well I certainly can't understand it," Lengel replied.

"Yes, it's a pretty big blow, I guess," the sheriff observed.

"It would be," the former chief retorted, "if I weren't innocent. "But I'm not afraid.

Sometime Saturday Prosecutor Harter is scheduled to meet Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, in Mansfield to interview a man whose identity was not revealed, in connection with the Mellett investigation. Harter said, however, that the man is not a reformatory prisoner.

Three Get Life Sentences.

Lengel is the fifth man to be indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News.

Patrick Eugene McDermott, Nanty-Glo, Pa., convicted gunman; Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware merchant and son of a millionaire Canton junk dealer, and Floyd E. Streitenberger, ousted city detective and alleged henchman of Lengel, are serving life sentences in the Ohio penitentiary, Streitenberger and McDermott without hope of pardon.

Mellett was shot down shortly after midnight, on the morning of July 16, 1926. He carried on an editorial crusade for nearly a year, charging an alliance existed between the underworld and certain members of the police department. As a result of the campaign and the cleanup which followed the murder, Mellett's newspaper, the Canton Daily News, won the 1926 Pulitzer prize.

Husband and Wife Arrested.

Samuel and Mina Gittens, husband and wife, were arrested at their home in Haywood avenue, Beechwood by Patrolman Leslie Curran today upon complaint of Ralph R. Hart, charging them with disorderly conduct. Bond of $16 each was posted for their appearance before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley tomorrow morning.

War Relics Will Be Shown at Army Band Concert Here

A group of more than 30 war maps, showing the various battle fronts French and German rifles, bayonets, helmets and other war material, gathered up from the battle fields, many of them still bearing the marks of mud, will be displayed at the high school building tomorrow evening in conjunction with the concert to be given by the Salvation Army band.

The relics are the property of Field Major Joseph Hughes, who was a welfare worker during the World War. Hughes was attached to the First division during a greater part of his overseas service, being a veteran of the Cantigny, Soissons, St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives in which the First division suffered its heaviest losses.

In addition to special numbers by the band and vocal selections by Miss May Foden, two reels of motion pictures showing the Salvation Army in action in France during the war will be shown. Proceeds of the concert will go to the band.

INJURED MAN TELLS STORY OF DEATH TRAP

Motorist Gives Details of Fatal Crash Near Vanport.

FOUR ARE DEAD

Claims Driver Did Not See Flashing Lights Crossing.

With his head swathed in bandages, William H. Coffey, 33, New Brighton man, told the story from his cot in the Rochester, Pa., General hospital, yesterday, of the Barclay's grade crossing crash, last Sunday evening, in which four were killed and four others injured.

Coffey, his seven-year-old son, William, Jr., and Robert, , and Jean, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson, only survivors of the crash, are convalescing from their injuries. Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson were held at New Brighton yesterday, while Mrs. Coffey and her two-year-old son, Paul, were buried this afternoon.

The two families left the Coffey home, Third street, New Brighton, at 6 o'clock Sunday evening in Atkinson's car. The two men were in the front seat, Coffey holding his son, William, on his lap. Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Coffey with the two Atkinson children and the younger of the Coffey children were in the back seat.

Coffey claims he did not see the flashing electric lights on either side of the railroad tracks as the machine approached the crossing. Neither did he notice the approaching westbound passenger train until the automobile was within 10 feet of the track. He asserts that he told Atkinson to "step on it" just as the locomotive struck the car.

"Atkinson was the most careful driver I ever rode with," Coffey said. "He had the car in second gear before we reached the crossing. We could not see the train approaching until we reached the crossing on account of the hill leading to the crossing.

"Before the crash came I put my arms around William, Jr.'s head to protect him as best I could. When the train struck our car we were all thrown about 60 feet ahead and to the side of the track, except William, Jr., who was thrown into the air and landed on the pilot of the engine. My other boy was dead when they picked him up. I think Mrs. Atkinson died shortly after having been placed with the rest of us on the eastbound train that took us to Rochester station, from where we were brought to the hospital."

We have just been checking up on our almanac. The month of May, it says, is in the sign of Taurus (meaning bull), which may or may not explain a lot of things. However, that must have been a terrible accident that happened to the central figure in the Zodiac. If it wasn't an accident, then he underwent a very serious abdominal operation. And remember, that happened before the days of the automobile. It should be a warning to careless auto drivers. Watch your step!

BELLANCA FLYERS DEBATE RETURN AIR VOYAGE

HEARST OFFERS $100,000 FOR SECOND TRIP

Chamberlin and Levine Will Consult Their Wives.

CONSIDER PLAN

Will Study Maps and Determine Best Routes.

BERLIN, June 9.—Neither Clarence A. Chamberlin nor Charles A. Levine have reached a decision on the offer of William Randolph Hearst of $100,000 for a return flight across the Atlantic to New York in the Bellanca plane. They will not make a decision until they have consulted their wives, who are due here next week.

"Everything depends on whether our wives will let us fly back," said Levine today.

"The Hearst prize offer looks fine and I like the idea a great deal, although we didn't at first think of flying back. I would like to fly back but I can't decide immediately."

"I don't know, I can't say yet," said Chamberlin when questioned about the proposal. "I am submerged in technical problems and I will have to think over the possibilities and study the topographical details. We zig-zagged all over Germany and the eastern Atlantic coming over and I don't want to do it again. I must study the maps and determin the best routes."

Both Chamberlin and Levine state they realize the magnitude of being the first to accomplish a non-stop flight to Europe and a non-stop flight return to America and that the chances of accomplishing such an achievement occupy most of their thoughts now.

Chamberlin May Get Brigadier-general Rank in Iowa Guard

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Clarence D. Chamberlin may be made a brigadier-general in the Iowa National Guard.

Governor Hammill of Iowa, after a conference at the White House today, said the question was being considered but some special act may have to be passed as Chamberlin is not a member of the Iowa guard.

Lisbon Youth Held For Court After Auto Disappears

Edward Ruhl, 19, a son of Edward Ridgley, of East Liverpool, was held for the Columbiana county grand jury by Justice M. K. Zimerman today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

Ruhl was alleged to have taken the car of Robert Burson, which was parked along the Lisbon-Leetonia road, Tuesday evening. He was arrested in Lisbon by Constable Clarence Wetzel and Game Warden L. W. Boring, Lisbon, as he was on his way to the fair grounds to attend a dance last evening. He was held in the Lisbon jail overnight and transferred to the county jail following his arraignment.

Ruhl was united with his mother, a Detroit woman, recently after a separation of about 17 years. He and his brother had been placed in the Fairmont Children's home when they were young and when their mother went after them they had been adopted.

The court permitted the young man to return to Detroit with his mother who promised him a home. He recently returned to Lisbon.

United States government probably will offer a warship for the voyage to America.

The length of the American's stay in Europe is problematical. Chamberlin is anxious to study European commercial aviation at first hand and Levine does not seem in any rush to get back to New York. In view of these circumstances their visit may last beyond a fortnight.

Chamberlin is going to London, but his stay in that city will not be a lengthy one.

Will Visit Plant of Lufthansa.

This afternoon the Americans will be entertained by the Aero club.

Friday will be a big day. They will be guests of the city at an official reception at the city hall. Friday evening they will be guests of honor at a dinner given by Minister of Transport Koch.

Chamberlin will be in his element on Saturday when he and Levine will be shown through the great plant of Lufthansa, Germany's foremost commercial aviation concern.

100 HURLED FROM BERTHS IN RAIL CRASH

Many Persons Hurt as New York Limited Hits Pullmans.

PANIC AVERTED

Wreck Occurs on Siding at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 9.—One hundred or more passengers were hurled from their berths early today when the New York limited, a crack night express of the New York Central railroad, crashed head on into two pullmans, filled with Rochester passengers, stationed on a siding here waiting to be attached to Boston express 46.

Many persons were slightly bruised but none was seriously injured.

Prompt work on the part of pullman porters, who remained in their cars and reassured the passengers, averted a panic.

All the passengers in the Rochester pullmans were shaken up and about 40 of them required medical attention. Railroad physicians administered to them and found that, beyond bruises and slight lacerations, none of them was seriously hurt.

Porters Calm Passengers.

Many of the passengers on the limited were also thrown to the floor by the impact. The two Rochester pullmans were driven nearly 50 feet by the collision.

Cries of the passengers went up on all sides. Many of the passengers rushed for the exits in night attire. The porters, however, quickly calmed them.

An investigation this morning indicated, it was stated, that the wreck was probably due to an error on the part of a yardman who threw a wrong switch. It was regarded as fortunate that the limited was making slow time when the impact occurred.

The rear platform of one of the Rochester pullmans was considerably damaged.

The wreck occurred shortly before 1 a. m. After an hour's delay, during which time the wreckage was cleared away, the New York limited backed out and proceeded toward its destination. The limited was bound from Cleveland to New York.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Several persons were shaken up and bruised when the New York limited, night express of the New York Central railroad bound from Cleveland to New York, crashed headon into two pullman cars filled with sleeping passengers on a siding near the station at Rochester early today, according to word reaching the company's offices here.

Railroad officials said that a switchtender had thrown it over on the track occupied by the waiting pullmans. The limited was traveling slowly, and the impact of the crash merely shook a number of the sleeping passengers from their berths. No one was seriously hurt.

The limited proceeded to New York.

NEW YORK, June 9.—For the first time in the history of New York a decision was handed down today in supreme court holding that a man sentenced to life imprisonment for murder is legally dead and that his wife may inherit his property and may re-marry, if she chooses, without divorcing him.

The decision was given by Justice Fawcett on the application of Mrs. Blanche Irene Gallaway Webster, wife of Harold F. Webster, convicted slayer of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway, who was killed in Hempstead last October.

Metallic Vault Plant Destroyed; 100 Men Out of Employment.

GALION, O., June 9.—More than a hundred men are out of employment here today as a result of the $250,000 fire which destroyed the entire plant of the Galion Metallic Vault company.

Fire fighting apparatus from Mansfield, Bucyrus and Crestline was called after the fire was discovered at 1 a. m. today, and which burned until 7 a. m.

The fire began in a small building of the plant and spread over a wooden factory bridge to the main brick structure.

The Detwiler Manufacturing company, manufacturers of steel auto bodies, occupying a portion of the building, was also destroyed.

Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the municipal electric plant adjacent to the burning building.

THE BUCKEYE NEWS

NO. 22. JUNE 9, 1927. VOL. 1.

We've always noticed that the boy graduate, like the bridegroom, plays a secondary part in the commencement scheme. But that is as it should be. Ladies first, you know.

You may not believe this but yesterday we saw a girl on Fourth street with her hair braided down her back.

We have just been checking up on our almanac. The month of May, it says, is in the sign of Taurus (meaning bull), which may or may not explain a lot of things. However, that must have been a terrible accident that happened to the central figure in the Zodiac. If it wasn't an accident, then he underwent a very serious abdominal operation. And remember, that happened before the days of the automobile. It should be a warning to careless auto drivers. Watch your step!

The busiest man in the world, we used to be told, was a one-armed paper hanger with the hives. But he is a loafer besides the father of colicky triplets.

Yesterday we heard of a man who lives over in Wellsville who traded a mule for an old flivver. The first time he attempted to crank the car, it "kicked back" and broke his arm. We suppose you'd call that the irony of fate.

We know a boy who thinks there's nothing that grows quite as fast as lawn grass.

It is real economy to use CELOTEX in the building of your home. You get a better, more comfortable home. It insulates.

CELOTEX, you know, is used for sheathing instead of wood; also for plaster base, roof insulation and sound deadener. There is a use for CELOTEX in every building.

SPEED!!

That is the thing that makes the DEXTER DOUBLE TUB the choice of every women who investigates carefully before she buys a washer—speed, plus its remarkable cleansing action and the ease with which it carries the largest family washing through from hamper to line in about an hour.

It washes—rinses—wrings—all at the same time. Its remarkable agitation cuts the usual 10 or 15 minutes to 5 minutes or less per tub and turns out the clothes beautifully clean and white, without soaking, boiling or hand-rubbing.

You don't have to change the water during the whole washing when you use a Dexter Double Tub—and you don't have to wash the last lots in dirty water. All of the heavy dirt is removed in the warm suds of the first tub, so that each lot is finished in the clean scalding suds of the second tub.

Come in, let us demonstrate this wonderful washing machine for you.

New York Critics Laud Austin Wylie And His Orchestra

It must be good!

That's what the New York Telegraph says of Austin Wylie's recording orchestra, which comes for a one night's engagement Friday at Virginia Gardens.

The Telegraph said recently: "Austin Wylie is credited with having the best and most popular orchestra in Cleveland, which entertains at the Golden Pheasant. Wylie evidently has made a name for himself, otherwise a prominent phonograph company would not go to the expense of bringing him and his boys to New York every once in a while to record."

And to back New York, the Cleveland Times says:

"We went around town to find jazz de luxe. And in justification of our search, we offer the grand prize to the band that plays under Austin Wylie. Wylie's band wins the search of four counts; first and foremost, the most pleasing fact that it can and does play either 'hot' or dreamily, with nice legato; secondly, that in everything it plays a certain refinement is noticeable in all its arrangements that proves that a musicianly mind is working in its midst; third, the total absence of screaming, racuous brass, even in the bluest of blue numbers, and fourthly, the high quality of its individual players."

Meeting of Ladies of Golden Eagle.

Ladies of the Golden Eagle will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the G. A. R. hall, East Fourth and Washington streets.

SPEED!!

That is the thing that makes the DEXTER DOUBLE TUB the choice of every women who investigates carefully before she buys a washer—speed, plus its remarkable cleansing action and the ease with which it carries the largest family washing through from hamper to line in about an hour.

It washes—rinses—wrings—all at the same time. Its remarkable agitation cuts the usual 10 or 15 minutes to 5 minutes or less per tub and turns out the clothes beautifully clean and white, without soaking, boiling or hand-rubbing.

You don't have to change the water during the whole washing when you use a Dexter Double Tub—and you don't have to wash the last lots in dirty water. All of the heavy dirt is removed in the warm suds of the first tub, so that each lot is finished in the clean scalding suds of the second tub.

Come in, let us demonstrate this wonderful washing machine for you.

New York Critics Laud Austin Wylie And His Orchestra

It must be good!

That's what the New York Telegraph says of Austin Wylie's recording orchestra, which comes for a one night's engagement Friday at Virginia Gardens.

The Telegraph said recently: "Austin Wylie is credited with having the best and most popular orchestra in Cleveland, which entertains at the Golden Pheasant. Wylie evidently has made a name for himself, otherwise a prominent phonograph company would not go to the expense of bringing him and his boys to New York every once in a while to record."

And to back New York, the Cleveland Times says:

"We went around town to find jazz de luxe. And in justification of our search, we offer the grand prize to the band that plays under Austin Wylie. Wylie's band wins the search of four counts; first and foremost, the most pleasing fact that it can and does play either 'hot' or dreamily, with nice legato; secondly, that in everything it plays a certain refinement is noticeable in all its arrangements that proves that a musicianly mind is working in its midst; third, the total absence of screaming, racuous brass, even in the bluest of blue numbers, and fourthly, the high quality of its individual players."

Meeting of Ladies of Golden Eagle.

COURT ORDER HITS FENCE JOB

Injunction is Asked Against School Enclosur eWork.

Work on the erection of a fence around the new Chester high school, Sixth street and Indiana avenue, was discontinued today following the receipt of a notice by the school board of application for a temporary restraining order, filed in the Hancock county circuit court at New Cumberland, yesterday, by Joseph N. Finley, Chester contractor.

Hearing on the application will be held before F. L. Bradley, clerk of the circuit court, New Cumberland, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. If a temporary injunction is granted, work will be held up until after July 1, when a hearing to make the order permanent will be conducted.

The proposed fence, contract for which was recently awarded to the Winland Brothers' Lumber company of East Liverpool, was to encircle the school grounds which takes in practically all of the old Rock Springs park ball field. The fence was to have a concrete base and be of corrugated sheet metal eight feet high.

According to members of the school board, defendants in the action brought by Finley, no opposition to the fence on the Sixth street or Louisiana avenue sides has developed, but erection of a fence along "the east and the north boundary lines" is opposed. The school property, it is claimed, is being used for parking privileges for automobile owners visiting Rock Springs park.

Personnel of the school board will change during the early part of July when the term of George C. Holliday expires. He will be succeeded by H. B. Bondurant. E. Y. Miller and C. A. Bollinger, other members of the board, retain their places.

DAMAGE ACTION FOLLOWS BLAST

The Manufacturers' Light and Heat company is named defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Steubenville recently by Daniel Ferarri of Weirton, in which the plaintiff claims permanent injuries by a gas explosion which he claims was due to the negligence of the defendant company.

The plaintiff claims he was severely burned about the face, neck, arms and hands and was a patient in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, until March 31 as a result of the explosion. He further alleges that he was permanently injured, his hearing affected, his eyesight impaired and was permanently disfigured. He says he has been unable to do work of any kind since and will be unable to earn a livelihood for a considerable time in the future, and has been compelled as a result of his injuries to expend large sums for medical attention.

The program at the First United Presbyterian church will be presented on Sunday, June 19. Exercises at the First Christian church were held last Sunday.

SITE FOR CITY HALL IS SELECTED

Conference between councilmen and a committee from the Chester volunteer fire department was held in the fire station, Carolina avenue, last evening, to discuss proposed sites for a municipal building.

The location has narrowed down to one of two sites. The firemen and solons virtually agreed to one of these locations, but their decision will not be made public until council meets in adjourned session next Monday evening.

Fifty gallons of liquor and two valuable automobiles were confiscated.

It is alleged that Colonero gave the officers at Ellsworth, $200 to permit them to go free, the money was accepted but turned over to District Attorney Howard Hughes.

COURT ORDER HITS FENCE JOB

Injunction is Asked Against School Enclosur eWork.

Work on the erection of a fence around the new Chester high school, Sixth street and Indiana avenue, was discontinued today following the receipt of a notice by the school board of application for a temporary restraining order, filed in the Hancock county circuit court at New Cumberland, yesterday, by Joseph N. Finley, Chester contractor.

Hearing on the application will be held before F. L. Bradley, clerk of the circuit court, New Cumberland, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. If a temporary injunction is granted, work will be held up until after July 1, when a hearing to make the order permanent will be conducted.

The proposed fence, contract for which was recently awarded to the Winland Brothers' Lumber company of East Liverpool, was to encircle the school grounds which takes in practically all of the old Rock Springs park ball field. The fence was to have a concrete base and be of corrugated sheet metal eight feet high.

According to members of the school board, defendants in the action brought by Finley, no opposition to the fence on the Sixth street or Louisiana avenue sides has developed, but erection of a fence along "the east and the north boundary lines" is opposed. The school property, it is claimed, is being used for parking privileges for automobile owners visiting Rock Springs park.

Personnel of the school board will change during the early part of July when the term of George C. Holliday expires. He will be succeeded by H. B. Bondurant. E. Y. Miller and C. A. Bollinger, other members of the board, retain their places.

Mrs. Luther Allison To Entertain.

Mrs. Luther Allison, Third street, will receive members of the Women's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church at her home tonight. Mrs. Pearl McCoy is teacher of the class.

DAMAGE ACTION FOLLOWS BLAST

The Manufacturers' Light and Heat company is named defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Steubenville recently by Daniel Ferarri of Weirton, in which the plaintiff claims permanent injuries by a gas explosion which he claims was due to the negligence of the defendant company.

The plaintiff claims he was severely burned about the face, neck, arms and hands and was a patient in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, until March 31 as a result of the explosion. He further alleges that he was permanently injured, his hearing affected, his eyesight impaired and was permanently disfigured. He says he has been unable to do work of any kind since and will be unable to earn a livelihood for a considerable time in the future, and has been compelled as a result of his injuries to expend large sums for medical attention.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM HERE

Children's day will be observed in two Chester churches next Sunday.

Exercises at the First Presbyterian church will take place at a joint Sunday school-preaching service to be held at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. James Paisley and Mrs. N. F. Evarts are in charge of the rehearsals.

Program at the First Methodist Episcopal church will be featured at 8 p. m. Elmer A. Durbin, superintendent of the Sunday school, and a corps of assistants are arranging the exercises. Children taking part in the exercises will meet for rehearsal in the church at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

The program at the First United Presbyterian church will be presented on Sunday, June 19. Exercises at the First Christian church were held last Sunday.

SITE FOR CITY HALL IS SELECTED

Conference between councilmen and a committee from the Chester volunteer fire department was held in the fire station, Carolina avenue, last evening, to discuss proposed sites for a municipal building.

The location has narrowed down to one of two sites. The firemen and solons virtually agreed to one of these locations, but their decision will not be made public until council meets in adjourned session next Monday evening.

THREE MEN HELD ON RUM CHARGES

George Colonero, aged 42, of Martins Ferry, Thomas Barkalosa, aged 48, of Philadelphia, and Gust Carmaratos, aged 30, of Weirton, alleged to have been caught in the act of transferring a cargo of liquor from one auto to another, are under arrest at Washington, Pa. Fifty gallons of liquor and two valuable automobiles were confiscated.

It is alleged that Colonero gave the officers at Ellsworth, $200 to permit them to go free, the money was accepted but turned over to District Attorney Howard Hughes.

Colonero's bail was fixed at $5,000 and that of each of his companions at $2,500.

WHAT'S THE NEWS IN CAPITAL? LINDBERGH, SIR, THAT'S ALL!

Maj. Gen Mason M. Patrick and his "bus."

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Notice is hereby given that mighty little alleged news will be available from this man's town, until after Charlie Lindbergh's been and gone, that isn't more or less tinctured with Lindy stuff.

You can no more get away from the subject than you could get away from the subject of the World War while that was still going on.

Nobody'll pay any attention to anything else.

For one thing, you can't look up without seeing somebody go scooting by in a plane—limbering up, to be in first class practice for the aerial festivities when that young flyer gets here.

They say Maj. Mason M. Patrick himself, chief of the army aviation service, is trying out a few stunts to show Lindy, when he gets to Washington. At all events, the general's been absent from his desk a good bit of late and his "subs" account is that he's putting his bus through all its fanciest paces.

Postmaster General New, though is the proudest man in the country.

The army and navy, he says, may pull more weird tricks in the air, but when it comes to furnishing go-getters, let 'em try to stack up against his mail flyers.

To say that the army and navy airmen and the postoffice outfit are jealous of one another wouldn't be expressing it in quite the right way, perhaps, but there certainly is considerable rivalry between them.

Generally speaking, the military bunch have had most of the opportunities to furnish the spectacular performances, while the mail carriers have felt that they were tied down to steady plugging—weren't allowed to show off if they wanted to. It's galled 'em somewhat.

Then along came Lindbergh—and, oh gosh! how the postoffice gang have been swelling around about it!

The Smithsonian Institute is a strong candidate for the Lindbergh plane.

The management's argument is that Lindy's flight, having been a national triumph, its museum is a more appropriate place for his machine than anything St. Louis has to offer.

If Charlie insists, of course the Smithsonian recognizes that it will have to submit, but there's some thought, if all else fails, of appealing to St. Louis' better nature—though without any great degree of confidence that its nature's good enough to make quite that much of a sacrifice.

However, the Smithsonian folk hold that you seldom get anything you don't ask for. They're quite willing to trade off a couple of stuffed mastodons, or some such thing, for the trophy, if that will be any inducement.

Speaking of aviation, Commander Pinedo expressed the opinion while here that tropical jungles are more dangerous to fly over than the ocean.

He points out that an airman can tumble into the sea without necessarily killing himself and then stand some chance, even though a pretty poor one, of being picked up—a theory he's since verified by doing it.

But landing, whole, on a thick mat of tree branches, thousands of miles in extent, he contends, is next to an impossibility, of having done that much, he sees still less prospect ever of getting out of a jungleful of boa constrictors and other wild animals.

Clothes worn by the average well-dressed women weigh three pounds four and one-quarter ounces, while those worn by men weigh nearly four time as much.

Youth of the Atlas

BY MARSHALL D. HALL
AUTHOR OF "THE VALLEY OF STONE" and "RIDDLE of the CYCLE GOD"

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN.

Larry, striving for the gate, found the way blocked by a score of swords, then he heard Benna's voice, losing no whit of its bell-like quality, even under the stress of the occasion.

"Quickly," he heard her call, "cut your way forward while I guard the rear."

"Risk not your life, but hasten to one side," he replied, but knew as he spoke that she never would do this. Then he felt a momentary touch as her shoulders came against his back and he knew that, back to back with him, she would fight as long as she could hold her blade.

Beni Ahmed's sword swung about his head in gleaming arcs and its point soon dripped red from having gone home time after time with lightning-like flashes that were bewildering to his more clumsy opponents. Called on now to show at his best, his sword-play was little short of marvelous and soon gutteral cries and groans sounded about him as wounded men, nursing their cuts, shrank away and opened a path down which he made progress toward the gate.

Once a man dropped with a gapping wound, whose body Larry had never touched, nor could Benna have sent home the thrust that felled him. He heard the head kaid's harsh tones:

"Look well where you strike, fool; you have laid out one of the guard."

Evidently here was another of Omar ben Medjad's promises, that of good secret thrusts, coming true. He found the gate was drawing nearer, then with a burst of speed, his blade flashing like living light, he literally carved his way forward until he saw the bard surface of the gate directly before him. Now ,with a quick shifting of his body he turned and looked for Benna. He saw her, fighting valiantly, giving and taking thrusts that any man might have been proud of, but on the verge of succumbing to weight of numbers.

Hitherto he had been loth to use his automatic, but now, seeing the dire peril that threatened the girl he loved he threw his compunctions to the four winds and drew the gun. At its first barking blast a man dropped, kicked and lay still. Again and again, then once more it roared, then the wall of steel about Benna melted and was naught. Cries of fear sounded and men were running, seeking safety off in the gloom. Larry called quickly:

"To me, Little Flower, to me!" Savagely, on the instant, he cursed himself for a doddering idiot for if there was any who heard, he would recognize the fact that Larry had called, not as to a man, but as one would call to a woman. He hoped desperately that the breach had been overlooked.

Swiftly Benna joined him, her breath coming in short gasps and a tiny blotch of scarlet staining her burnouse above the old wound. The sight sent him literally into a frenzy and holstering his automatic he seized his sword and was among the retreating guards like a cyclone, striking and hewing with the savage ferocity of a tiger, with the speed and power of three men. He cleaved his way among them until once more they broke and fled to safety.

And now no further doubts were in their minds as to this man being a wizard. This magician, it was plain to be seen, was the greatetst of them all, for who else save the very sultan of all the wizards could wield so mighty a sword, so destructive a blade?

Larry found himself alone in the midst of crumpled bodies, then he heard a chuckle and saw the kaid el-mia peering from behind a protecting pillar.

"Well done, O Youssef el-Habassi; you fight better than the mightiest warrior. By Allah, you may be a wizard, but you strike like a soldier, or I am no judge of men. Go, the way is clear, and speed your going."

Larry found the gate ajar, no doubt more work of the kaid, and throwing a brief farewell though the night, he added a quick word of thanks, then was through the portal, Benna beside him. The girl would have dashed off swiftly, but Larry, his muscles steel by reason of the terrific urge that was on him, picked her up lightly — holding her as thought she were a child — which, at that moment, she almost seemed to be, and dashed forward into the gloom coming almost instantly to the black, protecting wall of the forest.

Still he continued on, holding the girl lightly against him, nor did he pause for a full hour; then, beginning at last to feel the strain on his muscles, he paused beneath a stunted lotus tree, where the grass was long and the fallen leaves thick, and set her gently on her feet.

She looked at him with her star-like eyes in the gloom and he caught the faint murmur of her soft, liquid voice:

"How brave you are, Larry; how mighty. Truly, you are a man any woman might be proud of loving." Then, woman-like after the worst was over, she fainted.

Once again he was called on to minister to her, once again he brought forth his tiny medicine kit. Baring the old wound he saw that it had opened at the bottom, where the cut had been deepest. He found no fresh marks, and was thankful. Before he had finished dressing her hurt she had recovered her senses and lay quiet as he fixed the last piece of tape. Putting his kit away he dropped beside her and as he let the air enter his lungs in great mouthfuls, he realized finally how completely worn out he was.

Off in the night they heard a crashing in the underbrush and the clamoring of loud voices. One, harsh, and commanding, that spoke last Larry recognized.

"Keep quiet, fools, and search diligently. You would waken the devil with your noise. He was carrying the boy and could not go far, for the lad was hurt. I saw blood on his burnouse."

It was the voice of the evil-visaged kaid. Evidently a searching party was out for them. Larry was profoundly thankful for the darkness and pressing Benna's hand gently, he whispered:

"It is more than probable that they will miss us. They are passing a good hundred yards distant. Quiet, Little Flower, and we shall escape them yet."

His spine tristled as a low whisper reached them, and with a rapid movement he reached his feet, automatic poised and waiting. The whisper reached them again:

"Peace, I mean you no harm. I merely come to give you a message.'

It was the kaid el mia. Larry gasped, astonished.

"How came you to find us?"

"I followed not far behind you, wizard. Listen to what I have to say. On your way south from here, through the valley, you will come to a hut, a filthy hovel, in which dwells a holy man. Go to him and use all your wizard's powers in befogging him, in creating mystery that he may not fathom in full. You will not know it, but this holy man will be the Marabout of Adrar, most powerful man in Moslem today, under the Sultan. Let on at on time that you know him, remembering, however, that he will know you and that he will recognize Allal Abdi."

"I understand kaid; and I am to understand this message comes from Omar ben Medjad. Is it not so?"

The other breathed a low assent, then:

"But now I must speak of that which brought me here more than any other single thing. I shall ask ask a question and you must answer me truthfully, for all the plans of a great nation, the destiny of at least two people, depend on your reply. Tell me — is your companion a woman?"

Startled, Larry bit his tongue on the involuntary acquiescence that had sprung to his lips. Instead, he countered

"Is not your question rather absurd, kaid?"

For answer the kaid gave his beard a peculiar twist and a certain grimace that was on his face dropped away, to be replaced by another that brought vividly to mind a countenance Larry had faced not many days since.

"Bou Hamara," he breathed. "You were the kaid el-mia?"

But the other was again working with his beard and again the lineaments of his face were changing, so that when he looked at Larry a second time the latter gasped in utter amazement, for he was gazing into the face of none other than Omar ben Medjad!

hurdle would have been jumped in having the distinctive paper.

The days of such counterfeiters as Jim the Penman seem to be definitely over. He actually copied by hand, with pen and ink, notes of various denominations and only a close scrutiny would result in detection. His inks were colored black, green, or blue as the design called for. He was apprehended, however, by the secret service.

A good deal of spurious American money is put into circulation first in foreign countries. Inasmuch as the American dollar stood the shock of war when nearly all other currencies were at a discount, it stands high in the regard of all peoples. A portrait of Washington or Lincoln, the American eagle, the words "United States of America"—all symbolize monetary stability to the foreign mind and the foreigner is quite ready to take American money. Also he is too inexpert in handling it to detect spurious issues. Nor is he likely to detect a raised note.

When spurious notes ultimately come to a foreign branch of an American bank the examiners, usually Americans, detect the counterfeits and the raised notes. The counterfeits are worthless, but the raised notes will be accepted for what their original face represented. Thus, if a Frenchman presented a fifty-dollar note which had been raised from a five, he would receive credit only for five dollars.

Nations Now Cooperate.

There has been much progress made since the war in cooperation between the authorities of foreign nations and the United States and this month there is to be an international conference at Geneva under the auspices of the League of Nations for the purpose of discussing additional means of protecting the currencies of the several nations.

Although the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, it will be represented at the conference by an official observer in the person of W. H. Moran, chief of the Secret Service. Because of the important position of the United States in world affairs, especially those of a monetary nature, it is a foregone conclusion that Chief Moran will take a leading part in the discussion. It is likely that some international agreement will arise from the conference which will cer ent cooperation of police agencies and make the path of the counterfeiter a straighter and narrower one and, perhaps, ultimately close it up entirely.

Much attention has been given recently to trade-marks bearing a resemblance to currency and an arrangement has been entered into whereby any mark submitted to the Trade Mark division of the Patent Office for registration which resembles currency or currency symbols is first submitted to the Secret Service for an opinion as to whether such a mark might tend to give the use to which it was put a color of official origin.

It is contrary to existing statutes to reproduce a likeness of currency in any form. This law is carried out to the letter. An instance is the confiscation by the Secret Service of an oil painting which included a representation of money. The currency painted in the picture could not conceivably have been used, even though cut from the canvas, but the representation transgressed the letter of the law and so was confiscated.

Counterfeiting, of course, has extended to Liberty Bonds, to Treasury checks in payment for services or goods, and to other evidences of indebtedness by the government.

In all its work the Secret Service finds that the man who seeks to get something for nothing by counterfeiting sooner or latter is taken and sent to prison—usually sooner. And further, that if the same men would devote the same amount of energy and skill to legitimate endeavor their returns would be as great or greater and the shadow of prison walls would not be forever over them.

Letters to Editor

Mary A. Patterson Memorial
East Liverpool, O., June 7, 1927.

Dear Editor:

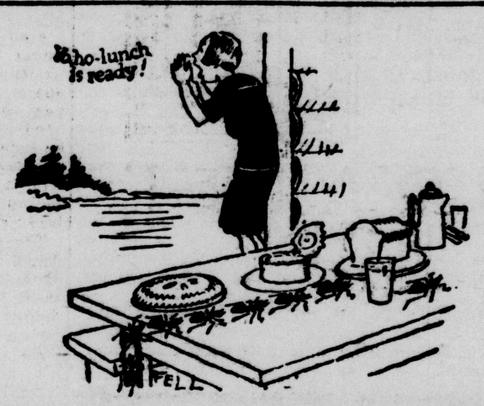

Although not acquainted with the true facts as to the status of the Mary A. Patterson Memorial I feel there is a near calamity approaching the City of East Liverpool. Our city is not able to boast of its civic pride but rather is forced to swallow and admit its lack of progress, growth and pride, due to many reasons.

It appears that this beautiful structure given by such a big heart and for such a worthy cause is soon to pass from its intended purpose due to the lack of pride and spirit for that which is worthy and good either upon the part of the city in general or upon the part of not a few who are wealthy enough to see this wonderful opportunity carried on. I feel quite sure the donor of this Memorial would never have let it fail and it would be a disgrace and a shame after having the building completed to see it pass by unused due to the failure of us to do our duty. There is plenty of wealth in the city to properly finance this thing and give to the homeless girls of our community a fit place to live.

What a wonderful piece of work some one could do if they would endow this project or see that it is carried on. The city has the wealth if only they will let go of it. We can't take our money with us and not a few are missing the worth while things of life because we hold on to our gold and make our circle of usefulness so small. To my mind that is exactly the trouble with our city; we put so little into it that it has stood still and retarded for sometime. Let us put back into the city some of the money we got out of it. We get out life just what we put into it. It is usually the man of moderate means that supports all of the worthy causes presented.

What person or persons will start the ball rolling. The writer would be grateful to have the opportunity and privilege of contributing to such a worthy cause and hope this communication may be the means of starting a thought in somebody's mind.

hurdle would have been jumped in having the distinctive paper.

The days of such counterfeiters as Jim the Penman seem to be definitely over. He actually copied by hand, with pen and ink, notes of various denominations and only a close scrutiny would result in detection. His inks were colored black, green, or blue as the design called for. He was apprehended, however, by the secret service.

A good deal of spurious American money is put into circulation first in foreign countries. Inasmuch as the American dollar stood the shock of war when nearly all other currencies were at a discount, it stands high in the regard of all peoples. A portrait of Washington or Lincoln, the American eagle, the words "Uinted States of America"—all symbolize monetary stability to the foreign mind and the foreigner is quite ready to take American money. Also he is too inexpert in handling it to detect spurious issues. Nor is he likely to detect a raised note.

When spurious notes ultimately come to a foreign branch of an American bank the examiners, usually Americans, detect the counterfeits and the raised notes. The counterfeits are worthless, but the raised notes will be accepted for what their original face represented. Thus, if a Frenchman presented a fifty-dollar note which had been raised from a five, he would receive credit only for five dollars.

I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 tablets—60 cents at druggists everywhere. RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.?

For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . .then finally decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in Six Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back

My Dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, rundown and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 tablets—60 cents at druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.?

For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . .then finally decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TOM MIX STARS AT AMERICAN

"The Broncho Twister," Fox Film, Opens Three-day Run.

An elaborate Spanish fete with a beauty contest in a setting that pictures old Spain, is one of the striking sequences in "The Broncho Twister," Fox Films latest drama, starring Tom Mix at the American theatre today, tomorrow and Friday.

The fete was staged in the patio of the Ortega mansion, one of the purest types of Spanish architecture in Los Angeles. Two hundred actors and actresses in Spanish dress, correct to the smallest detail, were in the scenes when Mix, in the role of a deputy sheriff breaks into the fiesta to arrest Black Jack Brady.

Brady is in custody at the point of the deputy sheriff's gun when his step-daughter descends the stairway, sees the situation, grabs a dagger from a mural decoration and gives her step-father a chance to turn his gang loose. Tom outwits them and escapes after the daughter has recognized him as the man whom she had informally met on a train. She realizes that Brady has mistreated her mother, so her sympathies are with Tom. He saves her just as a huge charge of powder blows up in a tower and kills her stepfather's desperadoes.

Helene Costello has the role of the beautiful Spanish girl, Paul Nicholson plays Brady and Doris Lloyd is his wife. O. O. Dull directed.

Eyes may be examined so minutely by a new instrument that even the corpuscles circulating in the blood-vessels are visible.

Mildred Andrews' Boys Head Ceramic Bill

Mildred Andrews and Her Boys—six people—offering a high class musical entertainment, interspersed with novelties, will appear at the Ceramic theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday in conjunction with Mildred Davis' return to the screen in the Paramount production, "Too Many Crooks."

Miss Andrews is a wonderful entertainer, while her boys feature snappy band music.

The most impressive cast ever selected for a comedy production will be seen in "Too Many Crooks." Lloyd Hughes, George Bancroft, and El Brendel are co-featured with Miss Davis. Others appearing in the stellar company include Betty Francisco, Gayne Whitman, William V. Mong, John St. Polis, Tom Ricketts, Otto Matiesen, Cleve Moore, Ruth Cherrington and Pat Hartigan.

Miss Davis, the beautiful blonde comedienne who played in "A Sailor Made Man," "Dr. Jack," "Why Worry," "Grandma's Boy" and "Safety Last" is too well known to need any further introduction. Her ability has been proved time and time again.

As for Hughes, he is now regarded as one of the industry's most popular leading men. Vivid characterizations in such pictures as "The Sea Hawk," "Tess of the Storm Country" and "The Lost World" are responsible. George Bancroft, villainous Jack Slade in "The Pony Express" and the gunner in "Old Ironsides" is said to contribute a rare farce portrayal as Bert the Boxman. And El Brendel—the funniest Scandinavian comic in captivity—impersonates a dumb private detective with laughs piling up by the score.

Betty Francisco, playing Frisco Flora, clever confidence woman, is regarded as one of the screen's most beautiful ingenues while Gayne Whitman has achieved fame as a talented trouper. Mong, Matiesen, St. Polis and Ricketts are all ranked among our leading character actors. Cleve Moore is Colleen's brother.

"Too Many Crooks" adapted from E. J. Rath's novel by Rex Taylor is a rather humorous concoction. It seems that Celia Mason, daughter of an indulgent father, aspires to be a playright. After witnessing John Barton's latest crook drama she informs Marshall Stone that if Barton's stuff gets over, hers will be a positive riot. In order to get "local color" Celia induces Stone to introduce her to the underworld and in this way she meets Mr. Barton. Stone swears he is a veritable king of crooks. The latter promises to help Miss Mason out. And he does—with ridiculous results! Fred Newmeyer directed "Too Many Crooks."

CHIROPRACTORS ASK VOTE CALL

Seek Establishment of Separate Examining Board.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 Columbiana county electors have signed supplementary initiative petitions to place a chiropractic bill on the ballot at the November election. The county's quota in the campaign for signatures was 1,600.

Seventy-four of the 88 counties in the state were represented in the petitions, said to contain 96,000 signatures, which have been filed with the secretary of state by Dr. C. E. Schilling, Willard, secretary of the Ohio State Chiropractic society.

The initiative proposal seeks the establishment of a separate examining board with the right to regulate the practice of chiropractors. The plan is in effect in 28 other states.

The board would be self-sustaining, according to the proposal.

Members of the society plan a campaign of education before the November election.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first published the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Yes—Lindbergh used Silvertowns

The greatest one man flight in history was accomplished by steel nerve, master skill—and perfect preparation.

In those perilous moments of the take-off from a muddy field, when the plane bounded into the air again and again—Silvertowns stood the weight of the 5,150 pound load, and sent the brave pilot on his way in safety!

In the last rush to earth, Silvertowns met the ground with sturdy resilience—and wrote a safe ending to that brilliant dash to Paris!

No mere chance won this honor for Silvertowns. These tires are daily proving their strength and safety, on the first airplane passenger service in America. The largest tire in the world is a Silvertown—built for airplane use. Silvertowns toured America on the plane in which Byrd flew to the North Pole. On the record-breaking flight from San Diego to New York, Lindbergh proved his faith in Silvertowns.

Think of having companion tires to these Silvertowns of the air—to bring strength and safety to your car. Silvertowns await you at our store.

But it is the adventure of life itself that claims our deepest interest. We are fascinated by what our neighbors are thinking and doing. Their hopes, fears, joys, sorrows, temptations and struggles are much like our own, and are therefore of immediate and vital concern.

Mildred Andrews' Boys Head Ceramic Bill

Mildred Andrews and Her Boys—six people—offering a high class musical entertainment, interspersed with novelties, will appear at the Ceramic theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday in conjunction with Mildred Davis' return to the screen in the Paramount production, "Too Many Crooks."

Miss Andrews is a wonderful entertainer, while her boys feature snappy band music.

The most impressive cast ever selected for a comedy production will be seen in "Too Many Crooks." Lloyd Hughes, George Bancroft, and El Brendel are co-featured with Miss Davis. Others appearing in the stellar company include Betty Francisco, Gayne Whitman, William V. Mong, John St. Polis, Tom Ricketts, Otto Matiesen, Cleve Moore, Ruth Cherrington and Pat Hartigan.

Miss Davis, the beautiful blonde comedienne who played in "A Sailor Made Man," "Dr. Jack," "Why Worry," "Grandma's Boy" and "Safety Last" is too well known to need any further introduction. Her ability has been proved time and time again.

As for Hughes, he is now regarded as one of the industry's most popular leading men. Vivid characterizations in such pictures as "The Sea Hawk," "Tess of the Storm Country" and "The Lost World" are responsible. George Bancroft, villainous Jack Slade in "The Pony Express" and the gunner in "Old Ironsides" is said to contribute a rare farce portrayal as Bert the Boxman. And El Brendel—the funniest Scandinavian comic in captivity—impersonates a dumb private detective with laughs piling up by the score.

Betty Francisco, playing Frisco Flora, clever confidence woman, is regarded as one of the screen's most beautiful ingenues while Gayne Whitman has achieved fame as a talented trouper. Mong, Matiesen, St. Polis and Ricketts are all ranked among our leading character actors. Cleve Moore is Colleen's brother.

"Too Many Crooks" adapted from E. J. Rath's novel by Rex Taylor is a rather humorous concoction. It seems that Celia Mason, daughter of an indulgent father, aspires to be a playright. After witnessing John Barton's latest crook drama she informs Marshall Stone that if Barton's stuff gets over, hers will be a positive riot. In order to get "local color" Celia induces Stone to introduce her to the underworld and in this way she meets Mr. Barton. Stone swears he is a veritable king of crooks. The latter promises to help Miss Mason out. And he does—with ridiculous results. Fred Newmeyer directed "Too Many Crooks."

CHIROPRACTORS ASK VOTE CALL

Seek Establishment of Separate Examining Board.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 Columbiana county electors have signed supplementary initiative petitions to place a chiropractic bill on the ballot at the November election. The county's quota in the campaign for signatures was 1,600.

Seventy-four of the 88 counties in the state were represented in the petitions, said to contain 96,000 signatures, which have been filed with the secretary of state by Dr. C. E. Schilling, Willard, secretary of the Ohio State Chiropractic society.

The initiative proposal seeks the establishment of a separate examining board with the right to regulate the practice of chiropractors. The plan is in effect in 28 other states.

The board would be self-sustaining, according to the proposal.

Members of the society plan a campaign of education before the November election.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Yes—Lindbergh used Silvertowns

The greatest one man flight in history was accomplished by steel nerve, master skill—and perfect preparation.

In those perilous moments of the take-off from a muddy field, when the plane bounded into the air again and again—Silvertowns stood the weight of the 5,150 pound load, and sent the brave pilot on his way in safety!

In the last rush to earth, Silvertowns met the ground with sturdy resilience—and wrote a safe ending to that brilliant dash to Paris!

No mere chance won this honor for Silvertowns. These tires are daily proving their strength and safety, on the first airplane passenger service in America. The largest tire in the world is a Silvertown—built for airplane use. Silvertowns toured America on the plane in which Byrd flew to the North Pole. On the record-breaking flight from San Diego to New York, Lindbergh proved his faith in Silvertowns.

Think of having companion tires to these Silvertowns of the air—to bring strength and safety to your car. Silvertowns await you at our store.

The Adventure Called Life

THE fiction writer would have us believe that real life is a colorless, hum-drum affair. So he attempts to improve on reality by creating characters and situations out of his fanciful mind.

But it is the adventure of life itself that claims our deepest interest. We are fascinated by what our neighbors are thinking and doing. Their hopes, fears, joys, sorrows, temptations and struggles are much like our own, and are therefore of immediate and vital concern.

"Outsider" Is Favored To Win National Open Golf Laurels

Pick Johnny Farrell As "Hot" Tip To Cop In Oakmont Tourney

Appears to Have Everything Right Now to Finish up at the Top; Jones, Some Critics Feel, May Slip After Long String of Victories.

Tunney Training

Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, is snapped in training at Speculator, N. Y., in the Adirondack mountains, for his next heavyweight championship bout. According to Tex Rickard, this will be in September, with Tunney meeting either Jack Dempsey or Jack Sharkey.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Largely inspired by the notion that a man who wins five of his last nine major championships might be about due to fumble on the two-yard line, the impression got about today among the boys in the half-column pants that Bobby Jones no longer would be champion at the end of the national open golf championship in Pittsburgh next week. Percentage, they say, will be against Jones and with an outsider at Oakmont.

An "outsider," of course, automatically bars Walter Hagen, whose game has suffered what might be called a bad rally. Nor does it include Jim Barnes, Jock Hutchison, Gene Sarazen, Willie Macfarlane and others who have won big titles, including the invading British. The popular candidate, in fact, is Johnny Farrell, who won the rungless stepladder in other years as the man who didn't win anything.

Farrell undoubtedly is what is called "hot" right now, thanks to his sensational victory over a great field in the metropolitan open. He has the golf, the temperament, the nerve-control and almost everything except the titles. I'll admit that the latter are a bit over due.

But it seems silly to attempt even to hunch a man like Jones out of a championship. All he has to do is to play to the speed he has been capable of in other medal tournaments of the last two or three years and most of the entries will fold up like an empty pouch.

One excellent bet is that Bobby won't be more than three strokes behind the winner and another is that the latter must average 73 strokes for the four rounds.

Farrell can do it. But will he? He has lacked the necessary physical and nervous stamina in other years but his health is improved now because Artie McGovern, the man who reclaimed George Ruth, alias Herman, from the depths of his own stomach, has worked on and with the golfer during recent months.

The hunch on Farrell in particular and an outsider in general is a reasonably good one, if only for the fact that, in a competition in which any one of 30 or 40 men might win, all hunches are good until after the tournament. In this case, it is sounder than usual in view of Hagen's pre-championship play; the recent illness of Mac Smith, the unimpressive scoring of the British in the Ryder cup matches and the fact that Bobby Cruikshank seems to have fallen away from the mid-winter pace that made him the great money winner of the southern tournaments.

Barnes and Hutchison have not been dangerous factors for several seasons; Sarazen and Macfarlane never have been the same since their great years in 1922 and 1925 respectively. Ted Ray, the Englishman, probably is too old to play championship golf any longer and, of his team mates, only Audbrey Boomer is said to have looked the part of even a possible champion at Worcester.

Yes, provided Jones obligingly flops, Oakmont looks like a great spot for the outsider. And he doesn't necessarily have to be Farrell. It could be Joe Turnesa, runner-up to Jones at Scioto last year, or Leo Diegel, who finished in a tie for second place at Inverness as far back as 1920 and hasn't been able to do anything about it since. It could be John Golden, the first pro behind Jones in the southern open, or Al Watrous, who placed third in the British open last year. It could be Harry Cooper, who might get away on one of those scoring sprees such as he showed in the $10,000 open at Los Angeles two years ago.

It could be, as stated, any one of three dozen men; so why pick on Farrell? And, above all, why attempt to throw out Jones? I'd rather try to throw out a stationary wash stand.

Laughlin has asked the following players to report Friday night for a practice tilt on the Newell grounds: Fowler, R. and H. Rardin, O'Hanlon, Parsons, Sayres, Miller, Thornberry, Cline, Silliman, Higginbottam, Holt, DeLong.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, has decided to enter the middleweight division, as Mickey Walker did when he lost the welter title. Latzo has had difficulty in making the welterweight limit for some time.

Latzo probably will make his debut as a middleweight in a ten round bout with "Tiger" Flowers, the negro who formerly held the title, at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on either July 11 or July 18.

PUSH 'EM UP TONY STARS IN YANK WIN

Lazzeri Clouts Three Home Runs in One Game.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, June 9.—It's the 'home run triplets" of the New York Yankees instead of the home run twins from now on and the third member of the triumvirate is Anthony Michael Lazzeri, the handy man of the New York infield and former home run king of the Pacific coast. Tony stole Babe Ruth's world series stuff yesterday by walloping three homers in one of the wildest games even seen in this man's town.

"Poosh 'em up Tony," yelled thousands of Lazzeri's Italian admirers when he came up in the ninth, and Tony did. The third homer climaxed a sensational five-run rally which enabled the Yankees to tie the White Sox. The Yanks won out in the eleventh, 12 to 11, after Durst had tripled for his fourth hit, and now lead the Sox by three games.

Seventeen homers were made yesterday, six of them in the Yankee-Sox game. The series thus far has been a home run carnival, ten circuit clouts having been delivered in two games.

A homer by Cummings and Hornsby's tenth home run of the season featured a sensational rally by the Giants, who scored four runs in the ninth and nosed out the Pirates, 8 to 7. McGraw used three pinch hitters and all of them came through. It was New York's first victory over the Bucs this season in six starts.

It appears as if the acquisition of Swede Carlson from the Phillies may mean a pennant for the Cubs. Carlson couldn't win for the Phils but he scented the pleasing fragance of world's series kale in Chicago and beat Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn, 3 to 2, although Vance yielded only five hits.

Hack Wilson hit his eleventh homer and now leads the National League sluggers. Wilson also starred afield, covering more ground than a circus tent, and Earl Webb walloped his ninth homer with one on. The Cubs jumped to second place.

The speeding Boston Braves won their fourth game of their current tour, beating the Cardinals again, 11 to 8. The Braves took sixth place away from the Phillies, while the Cards dropped to third.

Cincinnati, now playing ball for the first time this season, beat the Phillies, 5 to 4, for their fourth straight win.

Lisenbee of the Senators returned to form and gained a 2 to 1 decision over Hudlin of Cleveland. Washington jumped to fourth place.

Fothergill's homer featured Detroit's 5 to 3 victory over the Red Sox.

Boley got four hits as the Athletics outslugged the Browns, 7 to 5, and the Brownies dropped back into the second division.

TURK NASH, CORDS MEET IN EAST END

City League Rivals Battle for Second Place.

CHESTER and Turk Nash clubs of the City Industrial league are scheduled to battle in a "crucial" league contest this afternoon at Columbian park.

The Superior Cords are in second place and the Motors are right behind them, the former with seven victories and two defeats and the latter with six wins and three losses.

Should Chester grab the game it will have a mark of .800, while Turk Nash will drop to .600.

Should Turk Nash win it will reach a .700 percentage mark, while Chester will slip back to the same percentage and, consequently, the pair will be tied up, just a game and a half below Laughlin in first place.

Deshler will likely be the pitching selection of Manager Bill Mundy, while "Curly" Evans probably will carry the twirling burden for Pilot Frank Riley.

The game will start promptly at 6 o'clock.

SOCCER RIVALS PLAY UNDER ARCS

NEW YORK, June 9.—That playing soccer at night is practicable was demonstrated here last night when 15,000 spectators journeyed to the Polo grounds and saw the famous Hakoahs of Vienna play a scoreless tie with the New York Giants. The field was brilliantly illuminated by powerful arc lights.

CINCINNATI GETS FORDHAM STAR

NEW YORK, June 9.—Johnny White, shortstop of the Fordham university nine, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds. He will report to the team today.

Y. M. C. A., PRINTERS WIN CLOSE LEAGUE CONTESTS

Scheffer's Squad Noses Out Laughlin, Newell, 7 to 6; Review-Tribune Beats Furnitures, 8-6, in Extra-inning Engagement.

Two close contests, each a nip and tuck battle from the first frame to the final, one a ten-inning affair, were staged by Review-Tribune Recreation league clubs last night.

The Y. M. C. A. hung up their third straight win by defeating the Laughlin, Newell, nine in an exhibition clash on the Newell grounds.

Holt, Higginbottam and Parsons took turns on the mound for the Potters and each was hit equally hard by the "Y" clouters.

Hancock went the entire distance for the winners and was well supported in the pinches, Clark, Diamond and Wise contributing several spectacular catches.

Tommy Sayre played a great game at shortstop for Newell. Smith and Clark, with three hits, including a double apiece, led the winners at the plate. Laughlin, with three safe drives, was the premier slugger for the losers.

The Review-Tribune and the National Furnitures battled 10 innings at Patterson Field, the Printers copping an 8 to 6 decision in the overtime period.

The Review-Tribune got off to an early start, counting two runs in the opening frame. In the second inning, they added four more and appeared to have things pretty well in hand.

The Furnitures, however, were undaunted by their foes' early lead and stuck to their guns. In the second half of the third inning the Furnitures got three of the runs back when Ferguson clouted out a homer to right field, scoring Ross and Parson ahead of him.

The Furnitures made it four in the fourth and both clubs went scoreless then until the ninth when the Furnitures rallied sharply to score two runs and knot the count at 6-6.

Having failed to reach the plate since the second frame the Printers came to life again in the tenth when an error and two bingles sent two runners across, the Furnitures going runless in their half of the inning.

Managerial duties of the Laughlin, Newell, club of the Review-Tribune Recreation league are being directed today by Gale Laughlin following a club "shake-up," in which the entire roster was released and a new squad selected.

Clarence Moore, star shortstop with the American Billiards of the City League, has turned the reins over to Laughlin, who will pilot the West Virginians down the home stretch.

Laughlin has asked the following players to report Friday night for a practice tilt on the Newell grounds: Fowler, R. and H. Rardin, O'Hanlon, Parsons, Sayres, Miller, Thornberry, Cline, Silliman, Higginbottam, Holt, DeLong.

LATZO TO JOIN MIDDLEWEIGHTS

NEW YORK, June 9.—Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, has decided to enter the middleweight division, as Mickey Walker did when he lost the welter title. Latzo has had difficulty in making the welterweight limit for some time.

Latzo probably will make his debut as a middleweight in a ten round bout with "Tiger" Flowers, the negro who formerly held the title, at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on either July 11 or July 18.

PUSH 'EM UP TONY STARS IN YANK WIN

Lazzeri Clouts Three Home Runs in One Game.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, June 9.—It's the 'home run triplets" of the New York Yankees instead of the home run twins from now on and the third member of the triumvirate is Anthony Michael Lazzeri, the handy man of the New York infield and former home run king of the Pacific coast. Tony stole Babe Ruth's world series stuff yesterday by walloping three homers in one of the wildest games even seen in this man's town.

"Poosh 'em up Tony," yelled thousands of Lazzeri's Italian admirers when he came up in the ninth, and Tony did. The third homer climaxed a sensational five-run rally which enabled the Yankees to tie the White Sox. The Yanks won out in the eleventh, 12 to 11, after Durst had tripled for his fourth hit, and now lead the Sox by three games.

Seventeen homers were made yesterday, six of them in the Yankee-Sox game. The series thus far has been a home run carnival, ten circuit clouts having been delivered in two games.

A homer by Cummings and Hornsby's tenth home run of the season featured a sensational rally by the Giants, who scored four runs in the ninth and nosed out the Pirates, 8 to 7. McGraw used three pinch hitters and all of them came through. It was New York's first victory over the Bucs this season in six starts.

It appears as if the acquisition of Swede Carlson from the Phillies may mean a pennant for the Cubs. Carlson couldn't win for the Phils but he scented the pleasing fragance of world's series kale in Chicago and beat Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn, 3 to 2, although Vance yielded only five hits.

Hack Wilson hit his eleventh homer and now leads the National League sluggers. Wilson also starred afield, covering more ground than a circus tent, and Earl Webb walloped his ninth homer with one on. The Cubs jumped to second place.

The speeding Boston Braves won their fourth game of their current tour, beating the Cardinals again, 11 to 8. The Braves took sixth place away from the Phillies, while the Cards dropped to third.

Cincinnati, now playing ball for the first time this season, beat the Phillies, 5 to 4, for their fourth straight win.

Lisenbee of the Senators returned to form and gained a 2 to 1 decision over Hudlin of Cleveland. Washington jumped to fourth place.

Fothergill's homer featured Detroit's 5 to 3 victory over the Red Sox.

Boley got four hits as the Athletics outslugged the Browns, 7 to 5, and the Brownies dropped back into the second division.

TURK NASH, CORDS MEET IN EAST END

City League Rivals Battle for Second Place.

CHESTER and Turk Nash clubs of the City Industrial league are scheduled to battle in a "crucial" league contest this afternoon at Columbian park.

The Superior Cords are in second place and the Motors are right behind them, the former with seven victories and two defeats and the latter with six wins and three losses.

Should Chester grab the game it will have a mark of .800, while Turk Nash will drop to .600.

Should Turk Nash win it will reach a .700 percentage mark, while Chester will slip back to the same percentage and, consequently, the pair will be tied up, just a game and a half below Laughlin in first place.

Deshler will likely be the pitching selection of Manager Bill Mundy, while "Curly" Evans probably will carry the twirling burden for Pilot Frank Riley.

The game will start promptly at 6 o'clock.

SOCCER RIVALS PLAY UNDER ARCS

NEW YORK, June 9.—That playing soccer at night is practicable was demonstrated here last night when 15,000 spectators journeyed to the Polo grounds and saw the famous Hakoahs of Vienna play a scoreless tie with the New York Giants. The field was brilliantly illuminated by powerful arc lights.

CINCINNATI GETS FORDHAM STAR

NEW YORK, June 9.—Johnny White, shortstop of the Fordham university nine, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds. He will report to the team today.

Y. M. C. A., PRINTERS WIN CLOSE LEAGUE CONTESTS

Scheffer's Squad Noses Out Laughlin, Newell, 7 to 6; Review-Tribune Beats Furnitures, 8-6, in Extra-inning Engagement.

Two close contests, each a nip and tuck battle from the first frame to the final, one a ten-inning affair, were staged by Review-Tribune Recreation league clubs last night.

The Y. M. C. A. hung up their third straight win by defeating the Laughlin, Newell, nine in an exhibition clash on the Newell grounds.

Holt, Higginbottam and Parsons took turns on the mound for the Potters and each was hit equally hard by the "Y" clouters.

Hancock went the entire distance for the winners and was well supported in the pinches, Clark, Diamond and Wise contributing several spectacular catches.

Tommy Sayre played a great game at shortstop for Newell. Smith and Clark, with three hits, including a double apiece, led the winners at the plate. Laughlin, with three safe drives, was the premier slugger for the losers.

The Review-Tribune and the National Furnitures battled 10 innings at Patterson Field, the Printers copping an 8 to 6 decision in the overtime period.

The Review-Tribune got off to an early start, counting two runs in the opening frame. In the second inning, they added four more and appeared to have things pretty well in hand.

The Furnitures, however, were undaunted by their foes' early lead and stuck to their guns. In the second half of the third inning the Furnitures got three of the runs back when Ferguson clouted out a homer to right field, scoring Ross and Parson ahead of him.

The Furnitures made it four in the fourth and both clubs went scoreless then until the ninth when the Furnitures rallied sharply to score two runs and knot the count at 6-6.

Having failed to reach the plate since the second frame the Printers came to life again in the tenth when an error and two bingles sent two runners across, the Furnitures going runless in their half of the inning.

NEWARK BIDDING FOR DEMPSEY GO

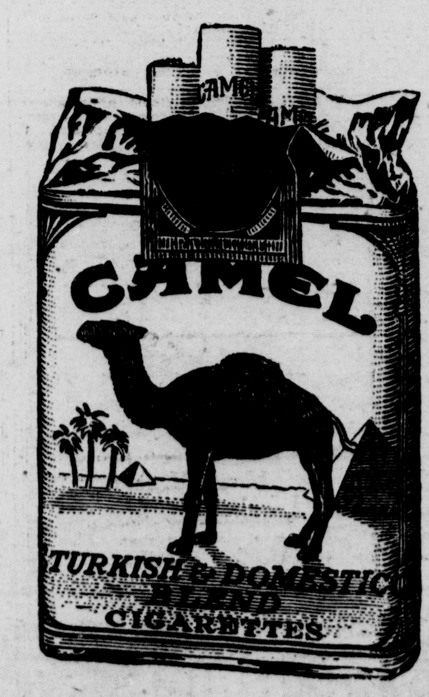

NEWARK, N. J., June 9.—James Brienza, local boxing promoter, has offered Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, a purse of $200,000 for a bout at the Newark baseball park here next month with a "suitable" opponent. The park seats 50,000 for boxing.

IT'S the cigarette of the age — the triumph of all smoking history. Just reflect—at the time when more cigarettes are smoked than ever before—Camels passed them all.

Why? Figure it out and you'll find that Camel is made for the particular smoker whose taste, day by day, is more knowing of quality. Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. And what blending! Camel's smoothness and mellowness are qualities distinctive to this cigarette.

If you haven't yet tried them, you'll find all your smoking wishes come true in Camels. Mild, clear and smooth from morning to night. Always so satisfyingly good! "Have a Camel!"

Shrkey To Be Idle.

NEW YORK, June 9.—As the result of the refusal of the New York boxing commission to use its influence in persuading Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, to go through with his mach with Pat McCarthy in Chicago, it was believed today that Sharkey will not fight again until he meets Gene Tunney for the title in September. Promoter Tex Rickard declares that Jack Dempsey must first take on Sharkey if he wants a return bout with Tunney, but has received no definite word as to the former champion's plans.

Shrkey To Be Idle.

NEW YORK, June 9.—As the result of the refusal of the New York boxing commission to use its influence in persuading Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, to go through with his mach with Pat McCarthy in Chicago, it was believed today that Sharkey will not fight again until he meets Gene Tunney for the title in September. Promoter Tex Rickard declares that Jack Dempsey must first take on Sharkey if he wants a return bout with Tunney, but has received no definite word as to the former champion's plans.

EAST END

THEFT OF AUTO IS FRUSTRATED

A little precaution probably saved Mr. and Mrs. James Burkey, of Johnstown, Pa., visiting here, the loss of a new Essex sedan Tuesday night when unidentified thieves attempted to run the car away from its parking place in Penn avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkey, after a visit in Canton, arrived at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ormes, in Penn avenue. They parked their automobile in front of the residence for the night.

Before retiring at 10 o'clock, Burkey extracted the distributor from the ignition system and locked the doors of the machine.

In the morning Burkey found the machine about 200 feet away from the house, run up on the sidewalk where the thieves had tried unsuccessfully to put it in operating order.

While the car was damaged in no way an examination revealed that the thieves had crawled under the machine and released the emergency brake, but were unable to get inside the auto.

It is thought that the barking of a dog near the Brooks' property, where the auto was recovered, frightened the thieves away.

CAMPMEETING OPENS JUNE 30

Free Methodists to Erect Tents on Dixonville Road.

Date for the annual Rochester district campmeeting of the Free Methodist church, which will be held on the permanent campgrounds, Dixonville road, has been set for June 30 to July 10.

Rev. Albert Wilson, Buffalo, N. Y., evangelist, will be assisted by the pastor of the several co-operating churches. Services will be held in the large frame tabernacle erected on the grounds last year.

More than 100 families from this city, Chester, Wellsville, Wellsburg, Martins Ferry, Rochester, New Brighton and other Beaver valley communities are expected to attend.

City League Teams In Action.

City League baseball fans of the East End will see two of the league leaders in action tonight at Columbian park.

Chester Superior Cord Tires are scheduled to clash with Turk Nash in a contest that probably will decide second place honors, for the time being, at least.

The Superior Cords will have to win in order to stay in second place while a loss will tie it up with the Motors.

HARD WATER + MEL'O = SOFT WATER

It is a dirty, scummy ring. It didn't come from dirt, either. It came from using hard water. Soap combines with the hardness in hard water and makes the scum. No matter how much soap you add, the scum remains—always.

But this ring doesn't form in soft water. You use less soap and that little loosens dirt and the water dissolves it. You can always have soft water—soft and pleasant as rain water. How? Use Melo! Melo softens hard water. Use two tablespoonfuls in the bath and there will be no dirty ring.

Wash the clothes in water made soft as rain water with Melo. They come out snowy white. Two tablespoonfuls of Melo in the washtub softens the hardest water. Use a teaspoonful of Melo in the dishpan. No more red rough hands and hard-to-wash dishes. Use Melo to wash dishes, clothes, floors, everything. Soft water is good for the skin. Soften the shaving water with Melo. Always use a pinch of Melo in the wash basin.

Keep a can of Melo in the kitchen, in the laundry, in the bathroom, it saves ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap. Get it at your grocer's.

The water in East Liverpool is 9 times as hard as it should be. Two tablespoonfuls of Melo will soften a bathtub full of water. Two tablespoonfuls in the washtubs. One teaspoonful in the dishpan.

EAST END

THEFT OF AUTO IS FRUSTRATED

A little precaution probably saved Mr. and Mrs. James Burkey, of Johnstown, Pa., visiting here, the loss of a new Essex sedan Tuesday night when unidentified thieves attempted to run the car away from its parking place in Penn avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkey, after a visit in Canton, arrived at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ormes, in Penn avenue. They parked their automobile in front of the residence for the night.

Before retiring at 10 o'clock, Burkey extracted the distributor from the ignition system and locked the doors of the machine.

In the morning Burkey found the machine about 200 feet away from the house, run up on the sidewalk where the thieves had tried unsuccessfully to put it in operating order.

While the car was damaged in no way an examination revealed that the thieves had crawled under the machine and released the emergency brake, but were unable to get inside the auto.

It is thought that the barking of a dog near the Brooks' property, where the auto was recovered, frightened the thieves away.

TWO WORKERS BLOWN TO BITS

Today

A Visit to Berlin.
Lesson For America.
21 Billions on Credit.
Payne Whitney's Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

A QUARTER of a million Germans saw the Bellanca plane, Chamberlin, the pilot, and Levine in Berlin yesterday. It was a friendly crowd, all war bitterness forgotten, far better than the other trip with bayonets and cannon, that nations were eagerly planning a few years ago.

LET'S hope this country will henceforth keep out of Europe's quarrels. That continent, for years to come, will not be safe from war. There is danger of an outbreak now in the Balkans. Albania complaining bitterly, threatens trouble.

A YOUNG czarist, in Warsaw, assassinated M. Voikoff, soviet minister to Poland. The assassin, Boris Koverko, 18 years old, says he murdered Voikoff for his share in killing the czar. That may mean trouble for Europe.

ENGLAND complains bitterly that the French secretly buy British gold to bolster the franc, thus threatening the world's financial balance.

France and England will never fight, if only because the French air fleet could destroy London a few hours after war started. But there is still bitterness everywhere.

AMERICANS should take to heart the lesson that Lindbergh and Chamberlin have taught us and get ready to keep hostile flyers away from this continent.

Five or ten thousand first-class planes, carrying mail parcels and passengers in peace, ready to take on machine guns in war, would be the best investment this rich nation could make.

THE great thing for prosperity is credit which stimulates sales, business and prosperity. It is the moving dollar that helps, not the stagnant dollar. Mr. Hewitt of Baltimore, vice-president of Retail Credit Men's association, says we have sepnt so far in 1927 forty-two thousand million dollars in retail purchases, half of it on credit. Without that spending of twenty-one billions on credit, prosperity would look peaked.

Stage Actress Victim of Gorilla-Like Fiend

Man Uses Razor Blade to Carve Letter "K" Seven Times on Body of Doris Dore.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 9.—Doris Dore, 21-year-old stage actress, was the victim of a gorilla-like fiend who early today used a razor blade to carve the letter "K" seven times on her body.

Miss Dore told police she was awakened by a knock at her apartment door. When she answered the summons she was overpowered by a giant of a man who held her helpless while he slashed the letter "K" on her forehead.

As she struggled to free herself from the vice-like grip, her attacker drew the blade across her chin and then carved his brand four times on her chest. He next slashed her forearms and the backs of her hands.

Later Miss Dore gave police the description of a man who she said had followed her across the continent after she had signed her name in a spirit of daring to a paper he presented to her at a gay Greenwich Village party in New York nearly two years ago.

The actress was removed to her apartment where swathed in bandages, she told an amazing story of persecution by the man who she says slashed her.

SWICKARD BOY WALKS IN PATH OF INTERURBAN IN GLENMOOR

Child's Skull Fractured and Right Leg Cut Off.

TOT MAY DIE

Youngster Injured as he Trails Elder Brother.

Edward, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Swickard, of Glenmoor, was perhaps fatally injured when struck by a northbound Youngstown and Ohio River interurban car while crossing the tracks near his home at 9:45 o'clock this morning. His skull was fractured and his right leg amputated just below the knee.

The accident occurred after the child, who had been playing near his home along the railroad right-of-way, followed his elder brother, John, 10, without the knowledge of the latter, onto the tracks.

Father, Passenger on Car.

The car, enroute from East Liverpool to Lisbon, rounded a sharp curve in the tracks near the Swickard home just as the baby was between the rails. Motorman Raymond Baker, Leetonia, applied the brakes and reversed the power in a vain effort to stop the car.

The father of the child who was a passenger on the car, picked up the baby who was found lyin between the rails and ran with him to the Lincoln highway where he was placed in an automobile, belonging to Howard Chamberlain, Glenmoor automobile dealer, and rushed to the City hospital.

Part of the skull bone was driven into the child's brain and an operation was performed in an effort to save the victim's life. His right foot was severed, when the wheels of the interurban car passed over it.

Berlin Crowds Cheer As Chamberlin and Levine Go to Streseman Luncheon

Near Riot Ensues When Two American Newspapermen, Who Resemble Aviators in Stature, Leave U. S. Embassy Where Throng Had Gathered.

ANOTHER DAY OF FETES AND HONORS FOR TIRED TRANS-ATLANTIC MEN

Intrepid Airmen Will Begin "Swing Around European Circle" by Hopping Off at 8 O'clock Sunday Morning for Vienna, Stopping for Few Hours Enroute at Munich.

By O. D. Tolischus.

BERLIN, June 9.—The German admiration for the American trans-Atlantic fliers, Chamberlin and Levine, fails to diminish.

Crowds gathered about the American embassy today and voiced loud demands that the fliers make an appearance, and a near riot ensued when two American newspapermen, who resemble the fliers in stature, left the embassy.

NON-STOP FLIGHT AROUND WORLD NOW AIM OF CLARENCE CHAMBERLIN

BERLIN, June 9.—A non-stop flight around the world is now the aim of Clarence A. Chamberlin, who has accomplished one of the greatest feats in aviation in his flight from New York to Germany breaking all distance records.

"If someone is willing to put up $2,000,000 for research work, I am convinced I would soon be able to produce a plane capable of a non-stop flight around the world," said Chamberlin today.

"That is a large order, but I believe that at the present rate of improvement in planes it could be done."

Both Chamberlin and Levine appeared rather tired today after the embassy dinner last night, but they were out on another round of entertainment.

Foreign Minister Steresemann entertained them at luncheon today together with the entire staff of the American embassy, Secretary of State Schubert, and Ministers Koch and Curtius.

The Aeronautical society gave them a tea and tonight the minister of transport is entertaining at dinner.

Plane in Perfect Condition.

The big Bellanca monoplane Columbia is in perfect condition and will be used by Chamberlin and Levine for traveling around Europe before their return home.

Chamberlin and Levine will hop off at 8 o'clock Sunday morning for Vienna, stopping for a few hours enroute at Munich. They are due in Vienna at 5:30 in the afternoon.

It is possible that the airmen may visit Rome and maybe Budapest before their return next week to greet their wives, who are due to reach this city on June 16.

Many fresh honors are in store for Chamberlin and his flying companion before they set out to "swing round the European circle" in the Columbia.

They will be made honorary citizens of Berlin by the municipal council and it is likely that streets will be named after them and after the monoplane Columbia by the grateful aldermen.

Chamberlin Will Go to London.

One newspaper has suggested that the German admiralty place a cruiser at their disposal for the trip home if they decide against flying. It is unlikely, however, that this suggestion will be carried into effect, owing to information from Washington that the

UNCLE SAM BEGINS PUTTING FINISHING TOUCHES UPON ARRANGEMENTS FOR GREETING CAPTAIN LINDBERGH AS CRUISER NEARS CAPITAL

BY WILLIAM HILLMAN.

ABOARD S. S. MEMPHIS, June 9.—The cruiser Memphis, hastening to Washington with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh aboard for a national reception in honor of the flier, was 892 miles from the Washington navy yard at 8 a. m., eastern daylight time, today.

The Memphis is making 21.8 knots an hour in a calm sea.

Colonel Lindbergh arose later than usual this morning. He sat up late last night writing letters to friends in Detroit and St. Louis to be mailed as soon as the Memphis docks.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER MEMPHIS, June 9.—The United States government today began putting the finishing touches upon the arrangements for the greeting of Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, the plucky young mail plane pilot who flew from New York to Paris, and who is coming home upon this warship.

The navy department asked the exact location of the Memphis in order to have the navy dirigible Los Angeles greet the craft at sea.

There has been modification of the program for destroyers to meet and escort the Memphis, according to radiograms from Washington. One of the six destroyers sent out to escort the Memphis will come up with the cruiser at dawn tomorrow morning and take off the films and "still" pictures taken aboard the Memphis, to rush them to New York.

Another destroyer will leave the operating base at Hampton Roads today to bring Richard R. Blythe, a committee which backed the flight, friend of Lindbergh's and the New York representative of the St. Louis

Destroyers to Meet Memphis.

Blythe will be brought on board the Memphis to consult with Lindbergh upon plans for his return to St. Louis, where a great reception awaits him. On the same destroyer will be a corps of newspaper reporters and photographers, but they will not be permitted to come aboard the cruiser.

This destroyer will return to Hampton Roads, but four other destroyers will meet the Memphis aproximately 50 miles off the Virginia Capes about 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will later be joined by two others.

In addition to Blythe customs officials will come aboard the Memphis to prepare for the landing.

The Memphis is expected to reach Cape Henry at 4 p. m. Friday and to reach the Washington navy yard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Lindbergh will go ashore at once to be greeted first by his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, and then by President and Mrs. Coolidge and a large delegation of officials.

800 Miles From Cape Henry.

Early today the Memphis was about 800 miles from Cape Henry, speeding in a great circle at 22½ knots an hour. When the [illegible] ruck the Gulf Stream, w[illegible]am encounters the La[illegible]nt from the north, there [illegible]op of 18 degrees in temperature and those on board had to bundle up a little warmer.

Lindbergh is entirely ready for the "ordeal," which awaits him in America. He knows from the adulation and honors of Europe what to expect at Washington, New York, St. Louis and other cities he may visit immediately after his arrival. But he is "all set."

The bold young aviator is without an offical care upon the [illegible] and is full of boyish enthusiasm for everything he encounters.

Were you to talk to Lowell Sherman

about the favorite cigarette for throat protection, he'd say to you:

Lowell Sherman, one of the stage's greatest favorites

"It is a wonderful thing to realize that an actor can indulge in smoking and at the same time retain the quality of his voice necessary to a good performance. I am happy to say that I have found this to be true with Lucky Strikes. So much so that I smoke them both while on and off the stage."

Lowell Sherman

When in New York you are cordially invited to see how Lucky Strikes are made at our exhibit, corner Broadway and 45th Street.

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Clicquot Club Ginger Ale
Golden or Pale Dry

TO suit your taste or the time, you need only say "Clicquot Club." And whether your choice be the rich, full-flavored Golden or the delicate Pale Dry, you are sure of the same mellow flavor that is the result of six months' aging . . . . away from light and air.

The name Clicquot Club is your guaranty of the worth of a product whose ingredients are skillfully blended with water of virgin purity from a natural source, and properly aged.

Only the crystal liquid from the famous Clicquot Spring is used in making these two types of the supreme ginger ale. With this, according to a secret formula which cannot be duplicated, are blended the choicest of flavorings. And a six-months' aging gives these ingredients a chance to thoroughly blend into a full flowering of the unequalled Clicquot Club flavor.

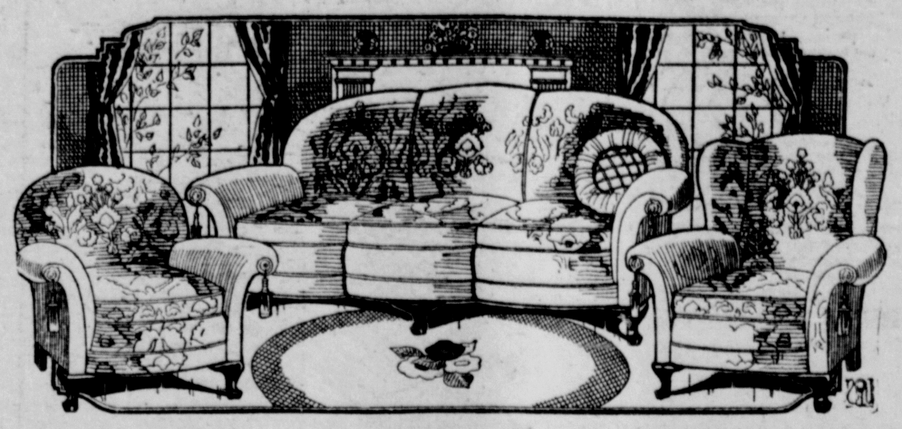

All of this is carried out in the spirit of true craftsmanship, and under expert supervision, at every step of the process.

For more than forty years this healthful beverage has been the prime favorite of those who know and appreciate "vintage" ginger ale.

Death Traps

Eleven lives have been sacrificed at bad grade crossings in two states in two months.

Four persons were killed and four others injured, when an automobile was wrecked by the Pittsburgh-Bellaire flyer on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad at the Barclay crossing, near Vanport, Pa., nine miles east of here, Sunday night.

Seven other deaths have occurred at a crossing near an Ohio city.

Both crossings, which have many understudies in other parts of the country, have been recognized as death traps. The Pennsylvania Railroad company and state highway department have arranged to eliminate the Barclay trap by erecting an overhead structure.

If human beings were invariably careful and wise drivers, the menace of grade crossings would be greatly reduced. Unfortunately they are not. And there are unforeseeable accidents which may happen even to careful drivers. That is why grade crossings should not be.

The elimination of all the existing grade crossings in the country would be a tremendously costly piece of work. Yet it should be undertaken. In the meantime, all such crossings should be protected by gates or other adequate devices so that the careless driver and his helpless companions will be saved in spite of themselves. And wherever future construction of roads or railway lines is planned, the grade crossing should be left out entirely. Subway or overhead passage should be the rule.

The Benevolent Circle

A miracle should be no less a splendid thing when it is explained. The United States has been regarded in recent years as the scene of an "economic miracle" because it has been able to maintain high wages and full employment in a period of falling prices. That is regarded as contrary to the economic law that rising prices are essential to industrial prosperity.

Now that the National Industrial Conference Board has offered an explanation for the miraculous situation, it is found that economic law, not fully understood before, really fits the case and all is as it should be.

The average production per employe in manufacturing industries in this country has been increased 35 per cent in the period between 1914 and 1925. Increased production made possible both high wages and falling prices. The high wages increased the purchasing power of the nation. High wages also necessitated steps on the part of manufacturers to increase efficiency in management and equipment. The whole thing goes around in a benevolent circle. Meditation upon these facts, understanding of them and application of the economic law so revealed will help to maintain this "miraculous" prosperity.

Love And Insanity

Judd Gray, according to Dr. Alex Hershfeld, state alienist of Illinois, "is not insane—just a fool."

That is evidently what the jury thought when it found him guilty of first degree murder.

True, Dr. Hershfeld says, Gray may have committed this crime under the influence of an obsession—caused by love. But that does not make him crazy. "Domination of one person by another through love is quite possible, love being a strange thing. But it does not constitute insanity in the case of a man sane from every other view-point."

In other words, people who do crazy things under the influence of love are not really crazy, but only acting as if they were so. This may seem to be a sort of distinction without a difference, but intelligent people will get the point of it. In fact, victims themselves usually appreciate their position pretty well. The man who says he's "crazy about" a woman, and acts the part, still shows his essential sanity. The insane man doesn't know he's insane.

The Balloon Race

For the fourth consecutive time Ward T. Van Orman has won the national balloon race. The distance he traversed last week was 727 miles.

Balloons seem antiquated and futile compared with airplanes—compared even with dirigibles. Still, many a valuable point about air currents and conditions may yet be discovered by means of them. As means of useful travel, they have long been thrown into the discard. But as tools of research, they may still have their value..

What Is News

A few events overshadowed in the news by international interest in Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Levine—Stresemann and Tchitcherin met to discuss the Anglo-Russian break, the Averescu cabinet fell at Bucharest, Jugoslavia and Albania broke off diplomatic relations, the Poincare cabinet faced a crosis, complicated affairs in China became more complicated.

But who cares? Three brave men have safely spanned the Atlantic in airplanes. Hooray!

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 9. — Thoughts at a first night: The curious lined up in the lobby. Flowers for the star and a few lesser luminaries. The harried expression of the producer. Old folks come early. The "angel" trying to appear don't-carish.

Coiffed heads. Exhilarating silks. Glistening shirt fronts. The usual handful who forget their tickets. The peek little straw-colored men who trot in the wake of dowagers. Huge feathered fans heavily sprayed with chypre. Tweeded young men who write lyrics.

Plush ladies who drfit to the smoking room for one more "drag." The tautness back stage. And the Cyclopean eyes at the curtain peep hole. Texas Guinan and her brother Tommy. The austerity of the lorgnons in the boxes. Those who seem to flutter down the aisles and those who lumber.

Karl Kitchen getting gray—that is what is left. The doctors who sit on the aisle. Faintly suggesting odors of the consulting room. The critics who settle back in their chairs as though making the best of a bad bargain. The "show offs" who have their girl friends sit directly in front of them. Women who continually feel at necklace clasps. Those haughty cardboard ladies who glare when disturbed by new arrivals. At the back rail "The Death Watch" and the claque.

The scraping of fiddles and the muted whining of horns. The self consciousness of the trap drummer. And the grand entrance of the leader with his white gloves. The wave of restlessness in the gallery and the flashing light for the overture.

Mayor Walker—late as usual. And the usual applause. George Jean Nathan seems to sneak into his seat. Late diners who spoil every opening scene. The intermission with its rush to the sidewalk. And after the final curtain those old ladies in black with cotton gloves and pink packets of gum.

Even the most calloused producer lives in dread of a premiere. A smooth perfomance is almost impossible and the most trivial incident may upset the play and subject it to critical scorn. Recently in the middle of an act a prop wall mirror plopped to the floor with a thud. There was no way to rescue it and it happened during the tense pivotal moment of the play. All that followed was almost entirely shorn of interest. Distract an audience and it is lost.

A restaurateur writes me that Ham Hawaiian has become the second most popular dish in town. The minute steak leads. Ham Hawiian is fried ham with a slice of pineapple cooked on top.

From the ad of a face lifting doctor: "Acquire the creamy satin air of the perpetual bride." Sounds swell.

It is noticed that all the face liftings are not jelling properly. One man tells of meeting two ladies who are so changed that even old friends do not recognize them at first glance. Usually sour, they appear to be grinning all the time, he says.

There is one also who at a distance resembles Carmen with a rose between her teeth. But closer there is revealed a huge strawberry blur on her cheek caused by some chemical reaction.

Sign on a 14th street window: "The man who gave our waitress a plugged half dollar may be pleased to learn it was taken out of her salary." If that doesn't bring the rascal to his knees nothing will.

TOUCHING ON PRAYER

I like the tale of little Hazel who went to bed one night, all tired out but first she knelt at her bedside and said: "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep." At the conclusion, following the parental injunction, she asked the Lord to bless all the members of the family. It was a very large family. Wearily the child plodded along through the list until she had named the last cousin.

Then with an air of weary relief she rose from her knees.

"I wish I had the kind of kinsfolks that could pray for themselves," she said.

Of somewhat similar tenor is one relating to a small boy who for a flagrant offense against discipline had felt the material slipper.

Through the day he nursed a desire for vengeance. His chance came at night.

According to routine, he knelt and prayed, winding up with an invocation on behalf of all his relatives. But there was one name he did not include.

As he straightened after the long-drawn "Amen," he fixed a look of triumph upon the maternal form.

"There, now," he remarked. "I hope you noticed you wasn't in it!"

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Counterfeiters and the New Currency.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 9.—The decision of the Treasury department to reduce the size of United States currency is expected to result in an increased effort on the part of counterfeiters to pass their spurious product upon the public. They have their plates made and many have substantial supplies of printed currency on hand. Counterfeiters usually pass out their wares rather gingerly; that it, the experienced ones do, knowing that to flood the market at any one time or place invites apprehension.

With currency of new design and especially of a reduced size to be issued by the government, the old plates and ready-printed currency will become obsolete, so caution will be partially set aside to get rid of stocks on hand and make the fullest practicable use of the plates before the appearance of the new money.

The actual counterfeiters very rarely pass any of their own product. Being sufficiently clever men to be able to imitate currency, they also have wit enough to know that it is best to work in the dark. Persons with the criminal instinct necessary to the use of spurious money but lacking the skill to produce it from a brotherhood or a trade all by itself. They are, of course, in league with the counterfeiters. They buy the counterfeit money for a low price, depending to some extent on the bargining ability of the respective prties and also upon the quality of the spurious product. The price of a five dollar counterfeit may run anywhere from one to three dollars. The professional passer, of course, puts the money into circulation at its full face value.

Passers and counterfeiters have each other pretty much in each other's power as either is in a position to inform on the crime of the other. In consequence they are careful of their dealings.

In recent years counterfeiting has altered to some extent. While new money constantly is being made, there has been a tendency to turn more to the raising of the denominations of genuine notes. The numeral on a five-dollar bill, for instance, will be skilfully changed, making it into a fifty-dollar bill. A ten becomes a hundred-dollar bill.

Modern Methods Are Used.

Investigations of the Secret Service show that the profession of counterfeiting has marched with the times and that modern methods are being used very extensively. There are few if any more of the old hand-engraved counterfeits appearing. Photo-lithography has taken the place of the hand work. If done with skill such a counterfeit is indeed dangerous as there are not present the differences in detail which often dicentify a hand-copied note design.

The camera is the basis of practically all counterfeiting operations among the modern fraternity and increasing skill is required on the part of the secret service to detect the work of the better craftsmen.

Distinctive paper remains one of the principal safeguards of United States currency. This paper, manufactured by a private corporation for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, is guarded as carefully as stocks of finished notes. In fact there is reason for guarding it more closely. The paper which might be used for printing five-dollar notes could, if it fell into the hands of a counterfeiter, be employed for printing thousand-dollar notes. If the crook's photo-lithography were excellent, his highest

DRY AGENTS IN GUN FIRE

Arrest One, Locate Still Following Rifle Battle.

As the result of a raid on a farm near Parlette, Jefferson county, yesterday, at Steubenville, Dan Enic, 42, is in the county jail, Justice of the Peace John Dunham, Hammondsville, O., is nursing serious burns and dry agents are seeking a moonshiner believed to have been wounded in a rifle battle.

The raid was led by State Inspector George Baynham and officers from the dry court at Hammondsville. As the raiders approached the farm, two men fled into a nearby wood and opened fire on the officers with rifles. Baynham returned the fire. He declared tonight he saw one of the men fall and then limp away. The raiders located a cave, in which they found a fifty-gallon still and Enic, who, it is alleged, was in charge of operations. A quantity of gasoline exploded and Justice Dunham was burned on the hands, face and arms. Enic was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond after a preliminary hearing before Justice Edward Lucas here.

The two are to be questioned further today. When grilled last night, they signed their names and admitted their identity, but at that time were not asked for a confession of the crime.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 9.—The railroad stocks, of both the investment and the speculative type, forged to the front as the leaders of a brisk forward movement at the beginning of trading today. With Lehigh Valley, Illinois Central, Reading and Baltimore & Ohio leading the investment rails, and Wabash and Ontario & Western the non-dividend speculative rails, railroad stocks again held the dominant position in the market. Texas and Pacific, New Haven and Missouri Pcific continued to forge ahead.

In excess of a million cars of revenue freight were loaded by the American railroads last week, making tho eighth consecutive million-car week. This was probably not as important a factor in the market today as the renewed buying of the stocks by powerful financial interests for various purposes, with ultimate re-grouping of roads in view. Acquisition of Lehigh Valley was attributed to "First National bank" financiers, under the lead of George F. Baker, who has always taken an active interest in the affairs of that road.

The industrial stocks and most of the specialties were comparatively quiet and featureless with motor and oil stocks receiving some attention. A few new low-priced specialties were brought forward and pushed upward a point or two in active trading. But special weakness appeared in other sections of the list, attended with new declines in U. S. Rubber, American Woolen, Radio Corporation and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

The outside markets were steady, and commodity markets firm. Cotton advanced a dollar a bale, wheat and corn made moderate gains, and coffee was steady. Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent.

BELLANCA FLYERS DEBATE RETURN AIR VOYAGE

HEARST OFFERS $100,000 FOR SECOND TRIP

Chamberlin and Levine Will Consult Their Wives.

CONSIDER PLAN

Will Study Maps and Determine Best Routes.

BERLIN, June 9.—Neither Clarence A. Chamberlin nor Charles A. Levine have reached a decision on the offer of William Randolph Hearst of $100,000 for a return flight across the Atlantic to New York in the Bellanca plane. They will not make a decision until they have consulted their wives, who are due here next week.

"Everything depends on whether our wives will let us fly back," said Levine today.

"The Hearst prize offer looks fine and I like the idea a great deal, although we didn't at first think of flying back. I would like to fly back but I can't decide immediately."

"I don't know, I can't say yet," said Chamberlin when questioned about the proposal. "I am submerged in technical problems and I will have to think over the possibilities and study the topographical details. We zig-zagged all over Germany and the eastern Atlantic coming over and I don't want to do it again. I must study the maps and determin the best routes."

Both Chamberlin and Levine state they realize the magnitude of being the first to accomplish a non-stop flight to Europe and a non-stop flight return to America and that the chances of accomplishing such an achievement occupy most of their thoughts now.

Chamberlin May Get Brigadier-general Rank in Iowa Guard

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Clarence D. Chamberlin may be made a brigadier-general in the Iowa National Guard.

Governor Hammill of Iowa, after a conference at the White House today, said the question was being considered but some special act may have to be passed as Chamberlin is not a member of the Iowa guard.

Lisbon Youth Held For Court After Auto Disappears

Edward Ruhl, 19, a son of Edward Ridgley, of East Liverpool, was held for the Columbiana county grand jury by Justice M. K. Zimerman today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

Ruhl was alleged to have taken the car of Robert Burson, which was parked along the Lisbon-Leetonia road, Tuesday evening. He was arrested in Lisbon by Constable Clarence Wetzel and Game Warden L. W. Boring, Lisbon, as he was on his way to the fair grounds to attend a dance last evening. He was held in the Lisbon jail overnight and transferred to the county jail following his arraignment.

Ruhl was united with his mother, a Detroit woman, recently after a separation of about 17 years. He and his brother had been placed in the Fairmont Children's home when they were young and when their mother went after them they had been adopted.

The court permitted the young man to return to Detroit with his mother who promised him a home. He recently returned to Lisbon.

United States government probably will offer a warship for the voyage to America.

The length of the American's stay in Europe is problematical. Chamberlin is anxious to study European commercial aviation at first hand and Levine does not seem in any rush to get back to New York. In view of these circumstances their visit may last beyond a fortnight.

Chamberlin is going to London, but his stay in that city will not be a lengthy one.

Will Visit Plant of Lufthansa.

This afternoon the Americans will be entertained by the Aero club.

Friday will be a big day. They will be guests of the city at an official reception at the city hall. Friday evening they will be guests of honor at a dinner given by Minister of Transport Koch.

Chamberlin will be in his element on Saturday when he and Levine will be shown through the great plant of Lufthansa, Germany's foremost commercial aviation concern.

Minnesota Party, Enroute to "Lindy's" Reception, in City

Enroute to Washington where they will represent his home state of Minnesota at the government's reception for Captain Charles Lindbergh, non-stop New York-to-Paris flier, four men, traveling by automobile, passed through East Liverpool shortly after 5 o'clock last evening.

The party was made up of Austin Grimes, mayor of Little Falls, Minn., Lindbergh's home town; Dr. C. H. Longley, the flier's dentist; Sherman Lewis and Kenneth Martin, former school mates. They were named by the governor to represent the state.

The visitors, who are traveling over the Lincoln highway, stopped in Lisbon for a few minutes at 4:30 o'clock, then came to East Liverpool where a brief stop was also made. They reached Pittsburgh last evening where they spent the night.

Benedum was the choice at a meeting of Democratic party leaders held in the city hall last evening. Other candidates for municipal offices, named at this meeting, include:

Bank Bandits Flee With $49,500 After Hold-up at Ansonia

CELINA, O., June 9. — Police and county authorities today were searching for the bandits who held up the First National bank of Ansonia village, south of here, Wednesday afternoon, escaping with $45,000 in government bonds and $4,500 in cash.

The robbers are believed to have made their get-away in an automobile stolen from Dwight Mendenhall of Greenville. They were last reported seen at Fort Recovery late yesterday, "going north" with a sheriff's posse in pursuit.

Wins Contract

Estelle Bradley.

Hollywood and motion pictures were mere words to Estelle Bradley three years ago, then a high school student, but today she is leading woman for Lloyd Hamilton, comedian. Miss Bradley was first elected "Miss Atlanta," and later won the prize as the most beautiful girl in the southern district. This won the attention of movie producers and subsequently a contract was made engaging Miss Bradley to appear in comedies.

100 HURLED FROM BERTHS IN RAIL CRASH

Many Persons Hurt as New York Limited Hits Pullmans.

PANIC AVERTED

Wreck Occurs on Siding at Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 9.—One hundred or more passengers were hurled from their berths early today when the New York limited, a crack night express of the New York Central railroad, crashed head on into two pullmans, filled with Rochester passengers, stationed on a siding here waiting to be attached to Boston express 46.

Many persons were slightly bruised but none was seriously injured.

Prompt work on the part of pullman porters, who remained in their cars and reassured the passengers, averted a panic.

All the passengers in the Rochester pullmans were shaken up and about 40 of them required medical attention. Railroad physicians administered to them and found that, beyond bruises and slight lacerations, none of them was seriously hurt.

Porters Calm Passengers.

Many of the passengers on the limited were also thrown to the floor by the impact. The two Rochester pullmans were driven nearly 50 feet by the collision.

Cries of the passengers went up on all sides. Many of the passengers rushed for the exits in night attire. The porters, however, quickly calmed them.

An investigation this morning indicated, it was stated, that the wreck was probably due to an error on the part of a yardman who threw a wrong switch. It was regarded as fortunate that the limited was making slow time when the impact occurred.

The rear platform of one of the Rochester pullmans was considerably damaged.

The wreck occurred shortly before 1 a. m. After an hour's delay, during which time the wreckage was cleared away, the New York limited backed out and proceeded toward its destination. The limited was bound from Cleveland to New York.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Several persons were shaken up and bruised when the New York limited, night express of the New York Central railroad bound from Cleveland to New York, crashed headon into two pullman cars filled with sleeping passengers on a siding near the station at Rochester early today, according to word reaching the company's offices here.

Railroad officials said that a switchtender had thrown it over on the track occupied by the waiting pullmans. The limited was traveling slowly, and the impact of the crash merely shook a number of the sleeping passengers from their berths. No one was seriously hurt.

The limited proceeded to New York.

his future plans and is preparing material for the book which he will write about his flight. Meanwhile radio messages continue to pour in upon the ship from all sections of the world. During the past two days 30 ships that passed within radio distance of the Memphis sent messages of congratulation.

Answers Radiograms.

Lindbergh is meticulous about answering them. Lieut. Gaines, ship's communication officer, declared that the Memphis has handled 40 times the amount of radio traffic usually cared for when the cruiser is acting as flagship of the cruiser fleet.

A staff of seven men have been working day and night receiving messages from all the stations along the American coast. Most of them are letters of congratulation, but many others contain invitations of various kinds. They ranged in length from 25 to 100 or more words.

From early Wednesday morning until last night more than 100 radiograms have been received. Official traffic is greatly increased, also, owing to instructions from the navy department at Washington.

Man Under Life Sentence Legally Dead, Court Rules

NEW YORK, June 9.—For the first time in the history of New York a decision was handed down today in supreme court holding that a man sentenced to life imprisonment for murder is legally dead and that his wife may inherit his property and may re-marry, if she chooses, without divorcing him.

The decision was given by Justice Fawcett on the application of Mrs. Blanche Irene Gallaway Webster, wife of Harold F. Webster, convicted slayer of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway, who was killed in Hempstead last October.

$250,000 FIRE HITS GALION

Metallic Vault Plant Destroyed; 100 Men Out of Employment.

GALION, O., June 9.—More than a hundred men are out of employment here today as a result of the $250,000 fire which destroyed the entire plant of the Galion Metallic Vault company.

Fire fighting apparatus from Mansfield, Bucyrus and Crestline was called after the fire was discovered at 1 a. m. today, and which burned until 7 a. m.

The fire began in a small building of the plant and spread over a wooden factory bridge to the main brick structure.

The Detwiler Manufacturing company, manufacturers of steel auto bodies, occupying a portion of the building, was also destroyed.

Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the municipal electric plant adjacent to the burning building.

The same building was gutted by fire several years ago.

SHANGHAI, June 9.—The United States light cruiser Marblehead left today for Chingwantao.

"Queen" Mary's Name Drawn Into Case Against Purnell

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., June 9.—"Queen" Mary Purnell's name today was dragged into the scandal engulfing her husband, "King" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the House of David.

While "King" Ben was holding sway over his alleged juvenile harem in the cult "inner circle," his "queen" was "familiar" with Francis Thorpe, manager of the colony's amusement enterprises, Mrs. Ruth Wade, of Hammond, Ind., testified in the state's suit to dissolve the cult.

LENGEL HELD AS MAZER GOES FOR SENTENCE

Fifth Arrest Made in Mellett Murder at Canton.

MERCY IS ASKED

Former Chief Denies Any Connection With Plot.

CANTON, O., June 9.—While Seranus A. Lengel, deposed Canton chief of police, was in Stark county jail here today, awaiting arraignment on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Louis Mazer, indicted last fall as one of the Mellett conspirators, was to be sentenced.

Mazer, whose confession to his part in the plot to slay the young editor resulted in the conviction of Floyd Streitenberger and in turn the indictment of Lengel, has thrown himself on the mercy of the court. He is charged with first degree murder, but Common Pleas Judge A. W. Agler, before whom he is scheduled to appear today, probably will not give him a heavy sentence.

Lengel, snow-white haired, 65 year old former chief, who had only one more year to serve before he was eligible for pension, was visited in his cell by W. Bernard Rodgers, young lawyer associated with the law firm with which former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene was identified here.

Arraignment on Saturday.

Lengel is expected to be arraigned Saturday, although Prosecutor Henry W. Harter, Jr., had not decided on the exact date this morning. Harter declared, however, that he will demand a speedy trial, and suggested July 5, as a possible starting date.

"I'll be ready then too," Lengel said. "The sooner the better."

The ex-chief was stoic as he was served with the capias by Sheriff Ed Gibson late yesterday afternoon, shortly after the grand jury had returned the indictment. Gibson found his prisoner sitting on the front porch of his home.

"I've come to arrest you," Gibson said.

"Well I certainly can't understand it," Lengel replied.

"Yes, it's a pretty big blow, I guess," the sheriff observed.

"It would be," the former chief retorted, "if I weren't innocent. "But I'm not afraid.

Sometime Saturday Prosecutor Harter is scheduled to meet Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, in Mansfield to interview a man whose identity was not revealed, in connection with the Mellett investigation. Harter said, however, that the man is not a reformatory prisoner.

Three Get Life Sentences.

Lengel is the fifth man to be indicted for the murder of Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News.

Patrick Eugene McDermott, Nanty-Glo, Pa., convicted gunman; Ben Rudner, Massillon hardware merchant and son of a millionaire Canton junk dealer, and Floyd E. Streitenberger, ousted city detective and alleged henchman of Lengel, are serving life sentences in the Ohio penitentiary. Streitenberger and McDermott without hope of pardon.

Mellett was shot down shortly after midnight, on the morning of July 16, 1926. He carried on an editorial crusade for nearly a year, charging an alliance existed between the underworld and certain members of the police department. As a result of the campaign and the cleanup which followed the murder, Mellett's newspaper, the Canton Daily News, won the 1926 Pulitzer prize.

Husband and Wife Arrested.

Samuel and Mina Gittens, husband and wife, were arrested at their home in Haywood avenue, Beechwood by Patrolman Leslie Curran today upon complaint of Ralph R. Hart, charging them with disorderly conduct. Bond of $16 each was posted for their appearance before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley tomorrow morning.

Governor Sends Ohio's Welcome by Radio to Lindy

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—Ohio's welcome to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, trans-Atlantic flyer was transmitted today by radio from Governor Vic Donahey to Washington, D. C., where it will be delivered aboard the U. S. steamship Memphis, upon the arrival of the vessel there.

"On behalf of the people of the state of Ohio, I am delighted to welcome you on your return to the United States," the governor told Lindbergh. "Permit me to extend you our heartiest congratulations.

"I feel you have paved the way for a new mode of oceanic transportation which should bind closer the hearts of the nations of the world.

"Ohio would be honored by a visit from you and I hope it may be possible. With every good wish, I am

Very truly yours,
VIC DONAHEY."

War Relics Will Be Shown at Army Band Concert Here

A group of more than 30 war maps, showing the various battle fronts French and German rifles, bayonets, helmets and other war material, gathered up from the battle fields, many of them still bearing the marks of mud, will be displayed at the high school building tomorrow evening in conjunction with the concert to be given by the Salvation Army band.

The relics are the property of Field Major Joseph Hughes, who was a welfare worker during the World War. Hughes was attached to the First division during a greater part of his overseas service, being a veteran of the Cantigny, Soissons, St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives in which the First division suffered its heaviest losses.

In addition to special numbers by the band and vocal selections by Miss May Foden, two reels of motion pictures showing the Salvation Army in action in France during the war will be shown. Proceeds of the concert will go to the band.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Blanche Hanley, wife of Frank Hanley, of Cameron, W. Va., who died in a Wheeling hospital, Tuesday, were held in the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, in charge of Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ. Burial was made in Spring Grove cemetery.

INJURED MAN TELLS STORY OF DEATH TRAP

Motorist Gives Details of Fatal Crash Near Vanport.

Claims Driver Did Not See Flashing Lights Crossing.

With his head swathed in bandages, William H. Coffey, 33, New Brighton man, told the story from his cot in the Rochester, Pa., General hospital, yesterday, of the Barclay's grade crossing crash, last Sunday evening, in which four were killed and four others injured.

Coffey, his seven-year-old son, William, Jr., and Robert, , and Jean, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson, only survivors of the crash, are convalescing from their injuries. Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson were held at New Brighton yesterday, while Mrs. Coffey and her two-year-old son, Paul, were buried this afternoon.

The two families left the Coffey home, Third street, New Brighton, at 6 o'clock Sunday evening in Atkinson's car. The two men were in the front seat, Coffey holding his son, William, on his lap. Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Coffey with the two Atkinson children and the younger of the Coffey children were in the back seat.

Coffey claims he did not see the flashing electric lights on either side of the railroad tracks as the machine approached the crossing. Neither did he notice the approaching westbound passenger train until the automobile was within 10 feet of the track. He asserts that he told Atkinson to "step on it" just as the locomotive struck the car.

"Atkinson was the most careful driver I ever rode with," Coffey said. "He had the car in second gear before we reached the crossing. We could not see the train approaching until we reached the crossing on account of the hill leading to the crossing.

"Before the crash came I put my arms around William, Jr.'s head to protect him as best I could. When the train struck our car we were all thrown about 60 feet ahead and to the side of the track, except William, Jr., who was thrown into the air and landed on the pilot of the engine. My other boy was dead when they picked him up. I think Mrs. Atkinson died shortly after having been placed with the rest of us on the eastbound train that took us to Rochester station, from where we were brought to the hospital."

And remember, that happened before the days of the automobile. It should be a warning to careless auto drivers. Watch your step!

New York Critics Laud Austin Wylie And His Orchestra

It must be good!

That's what the New York Telegraph says of Austin Wylie's recording orchestra, which comes for a one night's engagement Friday at Virginia Gardens.

The Telegraph said recently: "Austin Wylie is credited with having the best and most popular orchestra in Cleveland, which entertains at the Golden Pheasant. Wylie evidently has made a name for himself, otherwise a prominent phonograph company would not go to the expense of bringing him and his boys to New York every once in a while to record."

And to back New York, the Cleveland Times says:

"We went around town to find jazz de luxe. And in justification of our search, we offer the grand prize to the band that plays under Austin Wylie. Wylie's band wins the search of four counts; first and foremost, the most pleasing fact that it can and does play either 'hot' or dreamily, with nice legato; secondly, that in everything it plays a certain refinement is noticeable in all its arrangements that proves that a musicianly mind is working in its midst; third, the total absence of screaming, racuous brass, even in the bluest of blue numbers, and fourthly, the high quality of its individual players."

COURT ORDER HITS FENCE JOB

Injunction is Asked Against School Enclosur eWork.

Work on the erection of a fence around the new Chester high school, Sixth street and Indiana avenue, was discontinued today following the receipt of a notice by the school board of application for a temporary restraining order, filed in the Hancock county circuit court at New Cumberland, yesterday, by Joseph N. Finley, Chester contractor.

Hearing on the application will be held before F. L. Bradley, clerk of the circuit court, New Cumberland, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. If a temporary injunction is granted, work will be held up until after July 1, when a hearing to make the order permanent will be conducted.

The proposed fence, contract for which was recently awarded to the Winland Brothers' Lumber company of East Liverpool, was to encircle the school grounds which takes in practically all of the old Rock Springs park ball field. The fence was to have a concrete base and be of corrugated sheet metal eight feet high.

According to members of the school board, defendants in the action brought by Finley, no opposition to the fence on the Sixth street or Louisiana avenue sides has developed, but erection of a fence along "the east and the north boundary lines" is opposed. The school property, it is claimed, is being used for parking privileges for automobile owners visiting Rock Springs park.

Personnel of the school board will change during the early part of July when the term of George C. Holliday expires. He will be succeeded by H. B. Bondurant. E. Y. Miller and C. A. Bollinger, other members of the board, retain their places.

Thirteenth anniversary celebration of the Bible Searchers' class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held in the church parlors at 8 o'clock this evening.

Mrs. Luther Allison To Entertain.

Mrs. Luther Allison, Third street, will receive members of the Women's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church at her home tonight. Mrs. Pearl McCoy is teacher of the class.

DAMAGE ACTION FOLLOWS BLAST

The Manufacturers' Light and Heat company is named defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court at Steubenville recently by Daniel Ferarri of Weirton, in which the plaintiff claims permanent injuries by a gas explosion which he claims was due to the negligence of the defendant company.

The plaintiff claims he was severely burned about the face, neck, arms and hands and was a patient in the Ohio Valley hospital, Steubenville, until March 31 as a result of the explosion. He further alleges that he was permanently injured, his hearing affected, his eyesight impaired and was permanently disfigured. He says he has been unable to do work of any kind since and will be unable to earn a livelihood for a considerable time in the future, and has been compelled as a result of his injuries to expend large sums for medical attention.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM HERE

Children's day will be observed in two Chester churches next Sunday.

Exercises at the First Presbyterian church will take place at a joint Sunday school-preaching service to be held at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. James Paisley and Mrs. N. F. Evarts are in charge of the rehearsals.

Program at the First Methodist Episcopal church will be featured at 8 p. m. Elmer A. Durbin, superintendent of the Sunday school, and a corps of assistants are arranging the exercises. Children taking part in the exercises will meet for rehearsal in the church at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

The program at the First United Presbyterian church will be presented on Sunday, June 19. Exercises at the First Christian church were held last Sunday.

SITE FOR CITY HALL IS SELECTED

Conference between councilmen and a committee from the Chester volunteer fire department was held in the fire station, Carolina avenue, last evening, to discuss proposed sites for a municipal building.

The location has narrowed down to one of two sites. The firemen and solons virtually agreed to one of these locations, but their decision will not be made public until council meets in adjourned session next Monday evening.

THREE MEN HELD ON RUM CHARGES

George Colonero, aged 41, of Martins Ferry, Thomas Barkalosa, aged 48, of Philadelphia, and Gust Carmaratos, aged 30, of Weirton, alleged to have been caught in the act of transferring a cargo of liquor from one auto to another, are under arrest at Washington, Pa. Fifty gallons of liquor and two valuable automobiles were confiscated.

It is alleged that Colonero gave the officers at Ellsworth, $200 to permit them to go free, the money was accepted but turned over to District Attorney Howard Hughes.

Colonero's bail was fixed at $5,000 and that of each of his companions at $2,500.

WHAT'S THE NEWS IN CAPITAL? LINDBERGH, SIR, THAT'S ALL!

Maj. Gen Mason M. Patrick and his "bus."

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Notice is hereby given that mighty little alleged news will be available from this man's town, until after Charlie Lindbergh's been and gone, that isn't more or less tinctured with Lindy stuff.

You can no more get away from the subject than you could get away from the subject of the World War while that was still going on.

Nobody'll pay any attention to anything else.

For one thing, you can't look up without seeing somebody go scooting by in a plane—limbering up, to be in first class practice for the aerial festivities when that young flyer gets here.

They say Maj. Mason M. Patrick himself, chief of the army aviation service, is trying out a few stunts to show Lindy, when he gets to Washington. At all events, the general's been absent from his desk a good bit of late and his "subs" account is that he's putting his bus through all its fanciest paces.

Postmaster General New, though is the proudest man in the country.

The army and navy, he says, may pull more weird tricks in the air, but when it comes to furnishing go-getters, let 'em try to stack up against his mail flyers.

To say that the army and navy airmen and the postoffice outfit are jealous of one another wouldn't be expressing it in quite the right way, perhaps, but there certainly is considerable rivalry between them.

Generally speaking, the military bunch have had most of the opportunities to furnish the spectacular performances, while the mail carriers have felt that they were tied down to steady plugging—weren't allowed to show off if they wanted to. It's galled 'em somewhat.

Then along came Lindbergh—and, oh gosh! how the postoffice gang have been swelling around about it!

The Smithsonian Institute is a strong candidate for the Lindbergh plane.

The management's argument is that Lindy's flight, having been a national triumph, its museum is a more appropriate place for his machine than anything St. Louis has to offer.

If Charlie insists, of course the Smithsonian recognizes that it will have to submit, but there's some thought, if all else fails, of appealing to St. Louis' better nature—though without any great degree of confidence that its nature's good enough to make quite that much of a sacrifice.

However, the Smithsonian folk hold that you seldom get anything you don't ask for. They're quite willing to trade off a couple of stuffed mastodons, or some such thing, for the trophy, if that will be any inducement.

Speaking of aviation, Commander Pinedo expressed the opinion while here that tropical jungles are more dangerous to fly over than the ocean.

He points out that an airman can tumble into the sea without necessarily killing himself and then stand some chance, even though a pretty poor one, of being picked up—a theory he's since verified by doing it.

But landing, whole, on a thick mat of tree branches, thousands of miles in extent, he contends, is next to an impossibility, of having done that much, he sees still less prospect ever of getting out of a jungleful of boa constrictors and other wild animals.

Clothes worn by the average well-dressed women weigh three pounds four and one-quarter ounces, while those worn by men weigh nearly four time as much.

Youth of the Atlas

BY MARSHALL D HALL
AUTHOR OF "THE VALLEY OF STORE" and RIDDLE OF THE CIRCLE" ETC

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN.

Larry, striving for the gate, found the way blocked by a score of swords, then he heard Benna's voice, losing no whit of its bell-like quality, even under the stress of the occasion.

"Quickly," he heard her call, "cut your way forward while I guard the rear."

"Risk not your life, but hasten to one side," he replied, but knew as he spoke that she never would do this. Then he felt a momentary touch as her shoulders came against his back and he knew that, back to back with him, she would fight as long as she could hold her blade.

Beni Ahmed's sword swung about his head in gleaming arcs and its point soon dripped red from having gone home time after time with lightning-like flashes that were bewildering to his more clumsy opponents. Called on now to show at his best, his sword-play was little short of marvelous and soon gutteral cries and groans sounded about him as wounded men, nursing their cuts, shrank away and opened a path down which he made progress toward the gate.

Once a man dropped with a gaping wound, whose body Larry had never touched, nor could Benna have sent home the thrust that felled him. He heard the head kaid's harsh tones:

"Look well where you strike, fool; you have laid out one of the guard."

Evidently here was another of Omar ben Medjad's promises, that of good secret thrusts, coming true. He found the gate was drawing nearer, then with a burst of speed, his blade flashing like living light, he literally carved his way forward until he saw the bard surface of the gate directly before him. Now ,with a quick shifting of his body he turned and looked for Benna. He saw her, fighting valiantly, giving and taking thrusts that any man might have been proud of, but on the verge of succumbing to weight of numbers.

Hitherto he had been loth to use his automatic, but now, seeing the dire peril that threatened the girl he loved he threw his compunctions to the four winds and drew the gun. At its first barking blast a man dropped, kicked and lay still. Again and again, then once more it roared, then the wall of steel about Benna melted and was naught. Cries of fear sounded and men were running, seeking safety off in the gloom. Larry called quickly:

"To me, Little Flower, to me!" Savagely, on the instant, he cursed himself for a doddering idiot for if there was any who heard, he would recognize the fact that Larry had called, not as to a man, but as one would call to a woman. He hoped desperately that the breach had been overlooked.

Swiftly Benna joined him, her breath coming in short gasps and a tiny blotch of scarlet staining her burnouse above the old wound. The sight sent him literally into a frenzy and holstering his automatic he seized his sword and was among the retreating guards like a cyclone, striking and hewing with the savage ferocity of a tiger, with the speed and power of three men. He cleaved his way among them until once more they broke and fled to safety.

And now no further doubts were in their minds as to this man being a wizard. This magician, it was plain to be seen, was the greatetst of them all, for who else save the very sultan of all the wizards could wield so mighty a sword, so destructive a blade?

Larry found himself alone in the midst of crumpled bodies, then he heard a chuckle and saw the kaid el-mia peering from behind a protecting pillar.

"Well done, O Youssef el-Habassi; you fight better than the mightiest warrior. By Allah, you may be a wizard, but you strike like a soldier, or I am no judge of men. Go, the way is clear, and speed your going."

Larry found the gate ajar, no doubt more work of the kaid, and throwing a brief farewell though the night, he added a quick word of thanks, then was through the portal, Benna beside him. The girl would have dashed off swiftly, but Larry, his muscles steel by reason of the terrific urge that was on him, picked her up lightly — holding her as thought she were a child — which, at that moment, she almost seemed to be, and dashed forward into the gloom coming almost instantly to the black, protecting wall of the forest.

Still he continued on, holding the girl lightly against him, nor did he pause for a full hour; then, beginning at last to feel the strain on his muscles, he paused beneath a stunted lotus tree, where the grass was long and the fallen leaves thick, and set her gently on her feet.

She looked at him with her star-like eyes in the gloom and he caught the faint murmur of her soft, liquid voice:

"How brave you are, Larry; how mighty. Truly, you are a man any woman might be proud of loving." Then, woman-like after the worst was over, she fainted.

Once again he was called on to minister to her, once again he brought forth his tiny medicine kit. Baring the old wound he saw that it had opened at the bottom, where the cut had been deepest. He found no fresh marks, and was thankful. Before he had finished dressing her hurt she had recovered her senses and lay quiet as he fixed the last piece of tape. Putting his kit away he dropped beside her and as he let the air enter his lungs in great mouthfuls, he realized finally how completely worn out he was.

Off in the night they heard a crashing in the underbrush and the clamoring of loud voices. One, harsh, and commanding, that spoke last Larry recognized.

"Keep quiet, fools, and search diligently. You would alarm the devil with your noise. He was carrying the boy and could not go far, for the lad was hurt. I saw blood on his burnouse."

It was the voice of the evil-visaged kaid. Evidently a searching party was out for them. Larry was profoundly thankful for the darkness and pressing Benna's hand gently, he whispered:

"It is more than probable that they will miss us. They are passing a good hundred yards distant. Quiet, Little Flower, and we shall escape them yet."

His spine tristled as a low whisper reached them, and with a rapid movement he reached his feet, automatic poised and waiting. The whisper reached them again:

"Peace, I mean you no harm. I merely come to give you a message.'

It was the kaid el mia. Larry gasped, astonished.

"How came you to find us?"

"I followed not far behind you, wizard. Listen to what I have to say. On your way south from here, through the valley, you will come to a hut, a filthy hovel, in which dwells a holy man. Go to him and use all your wizard's powers in befogging him, in creating mystery that he may not fathom in full. You will not know it, but this holy man will be the Marabout of Adrar, most powerful man in Moslem today, under the Sultan. Let on at on time that you know him, remembering, however, that he will know you and that he will recognize Allal Abdi."

"I understand kaid; and I am to understand this message comes from Omar ben Medjad. Is it not so?"

The other breathed a low assent, then:

"But now I must speak of that which brought me here more than any other single thing. I shall ask ask a question and you must answer me truthfully, for all the plans of a great nation, the destiny of at least two people, depend on your reply. Tell me — is your companion a woman?"

Startled, Larry bit his tongue on the involuntary acquiescence that had sprung to his lips. Instead, he countered

"Is not your question rather absurd, kaid?"

For answer the kaid gave his beard a peculiar twist and a certain grimace that was on his face dropped away, to be replaced by another that brought vividly to mind a countenance Larry had faced not many days since.

"Bou Hamara," he breathed. "You were the kaid el-mia?"

But the other was again working with his beard and again the lineaments of his face were changing, so that when he looked at Larry a second time the latter gasped in utter amazement, for he was gazing into the face of none other than Omar ben Medjad!

Pains in His Back Made It Dangerous For Him to Work on Scaffold.

Many afflictions come from a disordered stomach, kidneys and liver. Among them are shortness of breath, indigestion, gas, bloating, constipation, headaches, dizzy spells and pains in the back. For much troubles there is nothing better than Redwood's Tepee Tonic. Thousands recommend it.

Redwood.

Homer Jenkins, carpenter, 568 Lincoln Way, East South Bend, Ind. says: "I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble for several years and no medicine I had ever taken had given me any relief. When I first heard about Redwood's Tepee Tonic I was interested and tried it with the most gratifying results.

"Before I took Redwood's Tepee Tonic my back was almost killing me. I couldn't reach high enough to nail on a door jam and I was afraid to work on a scaffold for fear of getting dizzy and falling. Now I can do twice as much work, thanks to Redwood's Tepee Tonic, and I don't feel half as tired.

"My pains are all gone. I eat heartily and my stomach does not hurt me. My bowels are regular and I don't have to take pills every night."

hurdle would have been jumped in having the distinctive paper.

The days of such counterfeiters as Jim the Penman seem to be definitely over. He actually copied by hand, with pen and ink, notes of various denominations and only a close scrutiny would result in detection. His inks were colored black, green, or blue as the design called for. He was apprehended, however, by the secret service.

A good deal of spurious American money is put into circulation first in foreign countries. Inasmuch as the American dollar stood the shock of war when nearly all other currencies were at a discount, it stands high in the regard of all peoples. A portrait of Washington or Lincoln, the American eagle, the words "United States of America"—all symbolize monetary stability to the foreign mind and the foreigner is quite ready to take American money. Also he is too inexpert in handling it to detect spurious issues. Nor is he likely to detect a raised note.

When spurious notes ultimately come to a foreign branch of an American bank the examiners, usually Americans, detect the counterfeits and the raised notes. The counterfeits are worthless, but the raised notes will be accepted for what their original face represented. Thus, if a Frenchman presented a fifty-dollar note which had been raised from a five, he would receive credit only for five dollars.

Nations Now Cooperate.

There has been much progress made since the war in cooperation between the authorities of foreign nations and the United States and this month there is to be an international conference at Geneva under the auspices of the League of Nations for the purpose of discussing additional means of protecting the currencies of the several nations.

Although the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, it will be represented at the conference by an official observer in the person of W. H. Moran, chief of the Secret Service. Because of the important position of the United States in world affairs, especially those of a monetary nature, it is a foregone conclusion that Chief Moran will take a leading part in the discussion. It is likely that some international agreement will arise from the conference which will cer ent cooperation of police agencies and make the path of the counterfeiter a straighter and narrower one and, perhaps, ultimately close it up entirely.

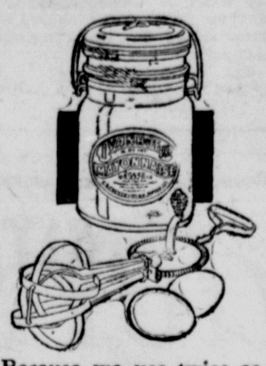

Much attention has been given recently to trade-marks bearing a resemblance to currency and an arrangement has been entered into whereby any mark submitted to the Trade Mark division of the Patent Office for registration which resembles currency or currency symbols is first submitted to the Secret Service for an opinion as to whether such a mark might tend to give the use to which it was put a color of official origin.

It is contrary to existing statutes to reproduce a likeness of currency in any form. This law is carried out to the letter. An instance is the confiscation by the Secret Service of an oil painting which included a representation of money. The currency painted in the picture could not conceivably have been used, even though cut from the canvas, but the representation transgressed the letter of the law and so was confiscated.

Counterfeiting, of course, has extended to Liberty Bonds, to Treasury checks in payment for services or goods, and to other evidences of indebtedness by the government.

In all its work the Secret Service finds that the man who seeks to get something for nothing by counterfeiting sooner or latter is taken and sent to prison—usually sooner. And further, that if the same men would devote the same amount of energy and skill to legitimate endeavor their returns would be as great or greater and the shadow of prison walls would not be forever over them.

Letters to Editor

Mary A. Patterson Memorial
East Liverpool, O., June 7, 1927.

Dear Editor:

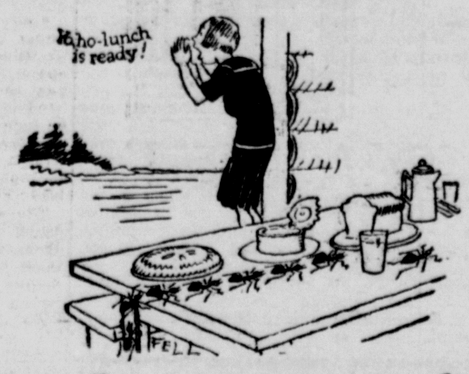

Although not acquainted with the true facts as to the status of the Mary A. Patterson Memorial I feel there is a near calamity approaching the City of East Liverpool. Our city is not able to boast of its civic pride but rather is forced to swallow and admit its lack of progress, growth and pride, due to many reasons.

It appears that this beautiful structure given by such a big heart and for such a worthy cause is soon to pass from its intended purpose due to the lack of pride and spirit for that which is worthy and good either upon the part of the city in general or upon the part of not a few who are wealthy enough to see this wonderful opportunity carried on. I feel quite sure the donor of this Memorial would never have let it fail and it would be a disgrace and a shame after having the building completed to see it pass by unsued due to the failure of us to do our duty. There is plenty of wealth in the city to properly finance this thing and give to the homeless girls of our community a fit place to live.

What a wonderful piece of work some one could do if they would endow this project or see that it is carried on. The city has the wealth if only they will let go of it. We can't take our money with us and not a few are missing the worth while things of life because we hold on to our gold and make our circle of usefulness so small. To my mind that is exactly the trouble with our city; we put so little into it that it has stood still and retarded for sometime. Let us put back into the city some of the money we got out of it. We get out life just what we put into it. It is usually the man of moderate means that supports all of the worthy causes presented.

What person or persons will start the ball rolling. The writer would be grateful to have the opportunity and privilege of contributing to such a worthy cause and hope this communication may be the means of starting a thought in somebody's mind.

A CITIZEN.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.?

For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . .then finally decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TOM MIX STARS AT AMERICAN

"The Broncho Twister," Fox Film, Opens Three-day Run.

An elaborate Spanish fete with a beauty contest in a setting that pictures old Spain, is one of the striking sequences in "The Broncho Twister," Fox Films latest drama, starring Tom Mix at the American theatre today, tomorrow and Friday.

The fete was staged in the patio of the Ortega mansion, one of the purest types of Spanish architecture in Los Angeles. Two hundred actors and actresses in Spanish dress, correct to the smallest detail, were in the scenes when Mix, in the role of a deputy sheriff breaks into the fiesta to arrest Black Jack Brady.

Brady is in custody at the point of the deputy sheriff's gun when his step-daughter descends the stairway, sees the situation, grabs a dagger from a mural decoration and gives her step-father a chance to turn his gang loose. Tom outwits them and escapes after the daughter has recognized him as the man whom she had informally met on a train. She realizes that Brady has mistreated her mother, so her sympathies are with Tom. He saves her just as a huge charge of powder blows up in a tower and kills her stepfather's desperadoes.

Helene Costello has the role of the beautiful Spanish girl, Paul Nicholson plays Brady and Doris Lloyd is his wife. O. O. Dull directed.

Eyes may be examined so minutely by a new instrument that even the corpuscles circulating in the blood-vessels are visible.

Mildred Andrews and Her Boys—six people—offering a high class musical entertainment, interspersed with novelties, will appear at the Ceramic theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday in conjunction with Mildred Davis' return to the screen in the Paramount production, "Too Many Crooks."

Miss Andrews is a wonderful entertainer, while her boys feature snappy band music.

The most impressive cast ever selected for a comedy production will be seen in "Too Many Crooks." Lloyd Hughes, George Bancroft, and El Brendel are co-featured with Miss Davis. Others appearing in the stellar company include Betty Francisco, Gayne Whitman, William V. Mong, John St. Polis, Tom Ricketts, Otto Matiesen, Cleve Moore, Ruth Cherrington and Pat Hartigan.

Miss Davis, the beautiful blonde comedienne who played in "A Sailor Made Man," "Dr. Jack," "Why Worry," "Grandma's Boy" and "Safety Last" is too well known to need any further introduction. Her ability has been proved time and time again.

As for Hughes, he is now regarded as one of the industry's most popular leading men. Vivid characterizations in such pictures as "The Sea Hawk," "Tess of the Storm Country" and "The Lost World" are responsible. George Bancroft, villainous Jack Slade in "The Pony Express" and the gunner in "Old Ironsides" is said to contribute a rare farce portrayal as Bert the Boxman. And El Brendel—the funniest Scandinavian comic in captivity—impersonates a dumb private detective with laughs piling up by the score.

Betty Francisco, playing Frisco Flora, clever confidence woman, is regarded as one of the screen's most beautiful ingenues while Gayne Whitman has achieved fame as a talented trouper. Mong, Matiesen, St. Polis and Ricketts are all ranked among our leading character actors. Cleve Moore is Colleen's brother.

"Too Many Crooks" adapted from E. J. Rath's novel by Rex Taylor is a rather humorous concoction. It seems that Celia Mason, daughter of an indulgent father, aspires to be a playright. After witnessing John Barton's latest crook drama she informs Marshall Stone that if Barton's stuff gets over, hers will be a positive riot. In order to get "local color" Celia induces Stone to introduce her to the underworld and in this way she meets Mr. Barton. Stone swears he is a veritable king of crooks. The latter promises to help Miss Mason out. And he does—with ridiculous results. Fred Newmeyer directed "Too Many Crooks."

CHIROPRACTORS ASK VOTE CALL

Seek Establishment of Separate Examining Board.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 Columbiana county electors have signed supplementary initiative petitions to place a chiropractic bill on the ballot at the November election. The county's quota in the campaign for signatures was 1,600.

Seventy-four of the 88 counties in the state were represented in the petitions, said to contain 96,000 signatures, which have been filed with the secretary of state by Dr. C. E. Schilling, Willard, secretary of the Ohio State Chiropractic society.

The initiative proposal seeks the establishment of a separate examining board with the right to regulate the practice of chiropractors. The plan is in effect in 28 other states.

The board would be self-sustaining, according to the proposal.

Members of the society plan a campaign of education before the November election.

When depressed conditions in Mexico this year forced many plants to dismiss large numbers of workers, the employes were compelled by law to pay to those let out three months' wages in advance.

Balloon tires have finally increased in popularity in Denmark until half the automobiles are equipped with them.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Yes—Lindbergh used Silvertowns

The greatest one man flight in history was accomplished by steel nerve, master skill—and perfect preparation.

In those perilous moments of the take-off from a muddy field, when the plane bounded into the air again and again—Silvertowns stood the weight of the 5,150 pound load, and sent the brave pilot on his way in safety!

In the last rush to earth, Silvertowns met the ground with sturdy resilience—and wrote a safe ending to that brilliant dash to Paris!

No mere chance won this honor for Silvertowns. These tires are daily proving their strength and safety, on the first airplane passenger service in America. The largest tire in the world is a Silvertown—built for airplane use. Silvertowns toured America on the plane in which Byrd flew to the North Pole. On the record-breaking flight from San Diego to New York, Lindbergh proved his faith in Silvertowns.

Think of having companion tires to these Silvertowns of the air—to bring strength and safety to your car. Silvertowns await you at our store.

The Adventure Called Life

THE fiction writer would have us believe that real life is a colorless, hum-drum affair. So he attempts to improve on reality by creating characters and situations out of his fanciful mind.

But it is the adventure of life itself that claims our deepest interest. We are fascinated by what our neighbors are thinking and doing. Their hopes, fears, joys, sorrows, temptations and struggles are much like our own, and are therefore of immediate and vital concern.

"Outsider" Is Favored To Win National Open Golf Laurels

Pick Johnny Farrell As "Hot" Tip To Cop In Oakmont Tourney

Appears to Have Everything Right Now to Finish up at the Top; Jones, Some Critics Feel, May Slip After Long String of Victories.

Tunney Training

Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, is snapped in training at Speculator, N. Y., in the Adirondack mountains, for his next heavyweight championship bout. According to Tex Rickard, this will be in September, with Tunney meeting either Jack Dempsey or Jack Sharkey.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Largely inspired by the notion that a man who wins five of his last nine major championships might be about due to fumble on the two-yard line, the impression got about today among the boys in the half-column pants that Bobby Jones no longer would be champion at the end of the national open golf championship in Pittsburgh next week. Percentage, they say, will be against Jones and with an outsider at Oakmont.

An "outsider," of course, automatically bars Walter Hagen, whose game has suffered what might be called a bad rally. Nor does it include Jim Barnes, Jock Hutchison, Gene Sarazen, Willie Macfarlane and others who have won big titles, including the invading British. The popular candidate, in fact, is Johnny Farrell, who won the ruggless stepladder in other years as the man who didn't win anything.

Farrell undoubtedly is what is called "hot" right now, thanks to his sensational victory over a great field in the metropolitan open. He has the golf, the temperament, the nerve-control and almost everything except the titles. I'll admit that the latter are a bit over due.

But it seems silly to attempt even to hunch a man like Jones out of a championship. All he has to do is to play to the speed he has been capable of in other medal tournaments of the last two or three years and most of the entries will fold up like an empty pouch.

One excellent bet is that Bobby won't be more than three strokes behind the winner and another is that the latter must average 73 strokes for the four rounds.

Farrell can do it. But will he? He has lacked the necessary physical and nervous stamina in other years but his health is improved now because Artie McGovern, the man who reclaimed George Ruth, alias Herman, from the depths of his own stomach, has worked on and with the golfer during recent months.

The hunch on Farrell in particular and an outsider in general is a reasonably good one, if only for the fact that, in a competition in which any one of 30 or 40 men might win, all hunches are good until after the tournament. In this case, it is sounder than usual in view of Hagen's pre-championship play; the recent illness of Mac Smith, the unimpressive scoring of the British in the Ryder cup matches and the fact that Bobby Cruikshank seems to have fallen away from the mid-winter pace that made him the great money winner of the southern tournaments.

Barnes and Hutchison have not been dangerous factors for several seasons; Sarazen and Macfarlane never have been the same since their great years in 1922 and 1925 respectively. Ted Ray, the Englishman, probably is too old to play championship golf any longer and, of his team mates, only Audbrey Boomer is said to have looked the part of even a possible champion at Worcester.

Yes, provided Jones obligingly flops, Oakmont looks like a great spot for the outsider. And he doesn't necessarily have to be Farrell. It could be Joe Turnesa, runner-up to Jones at Scioto last year, or Leo Diegel, who finished in a tie for second place at Inverness as far back as 1920 and hasn't been able to do anything about it since. It could be John Golden, the first pro behind Jones in the southern open, or Al Watrous, who placed third in the British open last year. It could be Harry Cooper, who might get away on one of those scoring sprees such as he showed in the $10,000 open at Los Angeles two years ago.

It could be, as stated, any one of three dozen men; so why pick on Farrell? And, above all, why attempt to throw out Jones? I'd rather try to throw out a stationary wash stand.

Newell Squad Re-Organized

Gale Laughlin New Pilot of Softball Nine.

Managerial duties of the Laughlin, Newell, club of the Review-Tribune Recreation league are being directed today by Gale Laughlin following a club "shake-up," in which the entire roster was released and a new squad selected.

Clarence Moore, star shortstop with the American Billiards of the City League, has turned the reins over to Laughlin, who will pilot the West Virginians down the home stretch.

Laughlin has asked the following players to report Friday night for a practice tilt on the Newell grounds: Fowler, R. and H. Rardin, O'Hanlon, Parsons, Sayres, Miller, Thornberry, Cline, Silliman, Higginbottam, Holt, DeLong.

LATZO TO JOIN MIDDLEWEIGHTS

NEW YORK, June 9.—Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, has decided to enter the middleweight division, as Mickey Walker did when he lost the welter title. Latzo has had difficulty in making the welterweight limit for some time.

Latzo probably will make his debut as a middleweight in a ten round bout with "Tiger" Flowers, the negro who formerly held the title, at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on either July 11 or July 18.

PUSH 'EM UP TONY STARS IN YANK WIN

Lazzeri Clouts Three Home Runs in One Game.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, June 9.—It's the 'home run triplets" of the New York Yankees instead of the home run twins from now on and the third member of the triumvirate is Anthony Michael Lazzeri, the handy man of the New York infield and former home run king of the Pacific coast. Tony stole Babe Ruth's world series stuff yesterday by walloping three homers in one of the wildest games even seen in this man's town.

"Poosh 'em up Tony," yelled thousands of Lazzeri's Italian admirers when he came up in the ninth, and Tony did. The third homer climaxed a sensational five-run rally which enabled the Yankees to tie the White Sox. The Yanks won out in the eleventh, 12 to 11, after Durst had tripled for his fourth hit, and now lead the Sox by three games.

Seventeen homers were made yesterday, six of them in the Yankee-Sox game. The series thus far has been a home run carnival, ten circuit clouts having been delivered in two games.

A homer by Cummings and Hornsby's tenth home run of the season featured a sensational rally by the Giants, who scored four runs in the ninth and nosed out the Pirates, 8 to 7. McGraw used three pinch hitters and all of them came through. It was New York's first victory over the Bucs this season in six starts.

It appears as if the acquisition of Swede Carlson from the Phillies may mean a pennant for the Cubs. Carlson couldn't win for the Phils but he scented the pleasing fragance of world's series kale in Chicago and beat Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn, 3 to 2, although Vance yielded only five hits.

Hack Wilson hit his eleventh homer and now leads the National League sluggers. Wilson also starred afield, covering more ground than a circus tent, and Earl Webb walloped his ninth homer with one on. The Cubs jumped to second place.

The speeding Boston Braves won their fourth game of their current tour, beating the Cardinals again, 11 to 8. The Braves took sixth place away from the Phillies, while the Cards dropped to third.

Cincinnati, now playing ball for the first time this season, beat the Phillies, 5 to 4, for their fourth straight win.

Lisenbee of the Senators returned to form and gained a 2 to 1 decision over Hudlin of Cleveland. Washington jumped to fourth place.

Fothergill's homer featured Detroit's 5 to 3 victory over the Red Sox.

Boley got four hits as the Athletics outslugged the Browns, 7 to 5, and the Brownies dropped back into the second division.

TURK NASH, CORDS MEET IN EAST END

City League Rivals Battle for Second Place.

CHESTER and Turk Nash clubs of the City Industrial league are scheduled to battle in a "crucial" league contest this afternoon at Columbian park.

The Superior Cords are in second place and the Motors are right behind them, the former with seven victories and two defeats and the latter with six wins and three losses.

Should Chester grab the game it will have a mark of .800, while Turk Nash will drop to .600.

Should Turk Nash win it will reach a .700 percentage mark, while Chester will slip back to the same percentage and, consequently, the pair will be tied up, just a game and a half below Laughlin in first place.

Deshler will likely be the pitching selection of Manager Bill Mundy, while "Curly" Evans probably will carry the twirling burden for Pilot Frank Riley.

The game will start promptly at 6 o'clock.

SOCCER RIVALS PLAY UNDER ARCS

NEW YORK, June 9.—That playing soccer at night is practicable was demonstrated here last night when 15,000 spectators journeyed to the Polo grounds and saw the famous Hakoahs of Vienna play a scoreless tie with the New York Giants. The field was brilliantly illuminated by powerful arc lights.

CINCINNATI GETS FORDHAM STAR

NEW YORK, June 9.—Johnny White, shortstop of the Fordham university nine, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds. He will report to the team today.

Y. M. C. A., PRINTERS WIN CLOSE LEAGUE CONTESTS

Scheffer's Squad Noses Out Laughlin, Newell, 7 to 6; Review-Tribune Beats Furnitures, 8-6, in Extra-inning Engagement.

Two close contests, each a nip and tuck battle from the first frame to the final, one a ten-inning affair, were staged by Review-Tribune Recreation league clubs last night.

The Y. M. C. A. hung up their third straight win by defeating the Laughlin, Newell, nine in an exhibition clash on the Newell grounds.

Holt, Higginbottam and Parsons took turns on the mound for the Potters and each was hit equally hard by the "Y" clouters.

Hancock went the entire distance for the winners and was well supported in the pinches, Clark, Diamond and Wise contributing several spectacular catches.

Tommy Sayre played a great game at shortstop for Newell. Smith and Clark, with three hits, including a double apiece, led the winners at the plate. Laughlin, with three safe drives, was the premier slugger for the losers.

The Review-Tribune and the National Furnitures battled 10 innings at Patterson Field, the Printers copping an 8 to 6 decision in the overtime period.

The Review-Tribune got off to an early start, counting two runs in the opening frame. In the second inning, they added four more and appeared to have things pretty well in hand.

The Furnitures, however, were undaunted by their foes' early lead and stuck to their guns. In the second half of the third inning the Furnitures got three of the runs back when Ferguson clouted out a homer to right field, scoring Ross and Parson ahead of him.

The Furnitures made it four in the fourth and both clubs went scoreless then until the ninth when the Furnitures rallied sharply to score two runs and knot the count at 6-6.

Having failed to reach the plate since the second frame the Printers came to life again in the tenth when an error and two bingles sent two runners across, the Furnitures going runless in their half of the inning.

NEWARK BIDDING FOR DEMPSEY GO

NEWARK, N. J., June 9.—James Brienza, local boxing promoter, has offered Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, a purse of $200,000 for a bout at the Newark baseball park here next month with a "suitable" opponent. The park seats 50,000 for boxing.

IT'S the cigarette of the age — the triumph of all smoking history. Just reflect—at the time when more cigarettes are smoked than ever before—Camels passed them all.

Why? Figure it out and you'll find that Camel is made for the particular smoker whose taste, day by day, is more knowing of quality. Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. And what blending! Camel's smoothness and mellowness are qualities distinctive to this cigarette.

If you haven't yet tried them, you'll find all your smoking wishes come true in Camels. Mild, clear and smooth from morning to night. Always so satisfyingly good! "Have a Camel!"

Shrkey To Be Idle.

NEW YORK, June 9.—As the result of the refusal of the New York boxing commission to use its influence in persuading Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, to go through with his mach with Pat McCarthy in Chicago, it was believed today that Sharkey will not fight again until he meets Gene Tunney for the title in September. Promoter Tex Rickard declares that Jack Dempsey must first take on Sharkey if he wants a return bout with Tunney, but has received no definite word as to the former champion's plans.

EAST END

THEFT OF AUTO IS FRUSTRATED

A little precaution probably saved Mr. and Mrs. James Burkey, of Johnstown, Pa., visiting here, the loss of a new Essex sedan Tuesday night when unidentified thieves attempted to run the car away from its parking place in Penn avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkey, after a visit in Canton, arrived at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ormes, in Penn avenue. They parked their automobile in front of the residence for the night.

Before retiring at 10 o'clock, Burkey extracted the distributor from the ignition system and locked the doors of the machine.

In the morning Burkey found the machine about 200 feet away from the house, run up on the sidewalk where the thieves had tried unsuccessfully to put it in operating order.

While the car was damaged in no way an examination revealed that the thieves had crawled under the machine and released the emergency brake, but were unable to get inside the auto.

It is thought that the barking of a dog near the Brooks' property, where the auto was recovered, frightened the thieves away.

HARD WATER PLUS MEL'O MAKES SOFT WATER

IT IS a dirty, scummy ring. It didn't come from dirt, either. It came from using hard water. Soap combines with the hardness in hard water and makes the scum. No matter how much soap you add, the scum remains—always.

But this ring doesn't form in soft water. You use less soap and that little loosens dirt and the water dissolves it. You can always have soft water—soft and pleasant as rain water. How? Use Melo! Melo softens hard water. Use two tablespoonfuls in the bath and there will be no dirty ring.

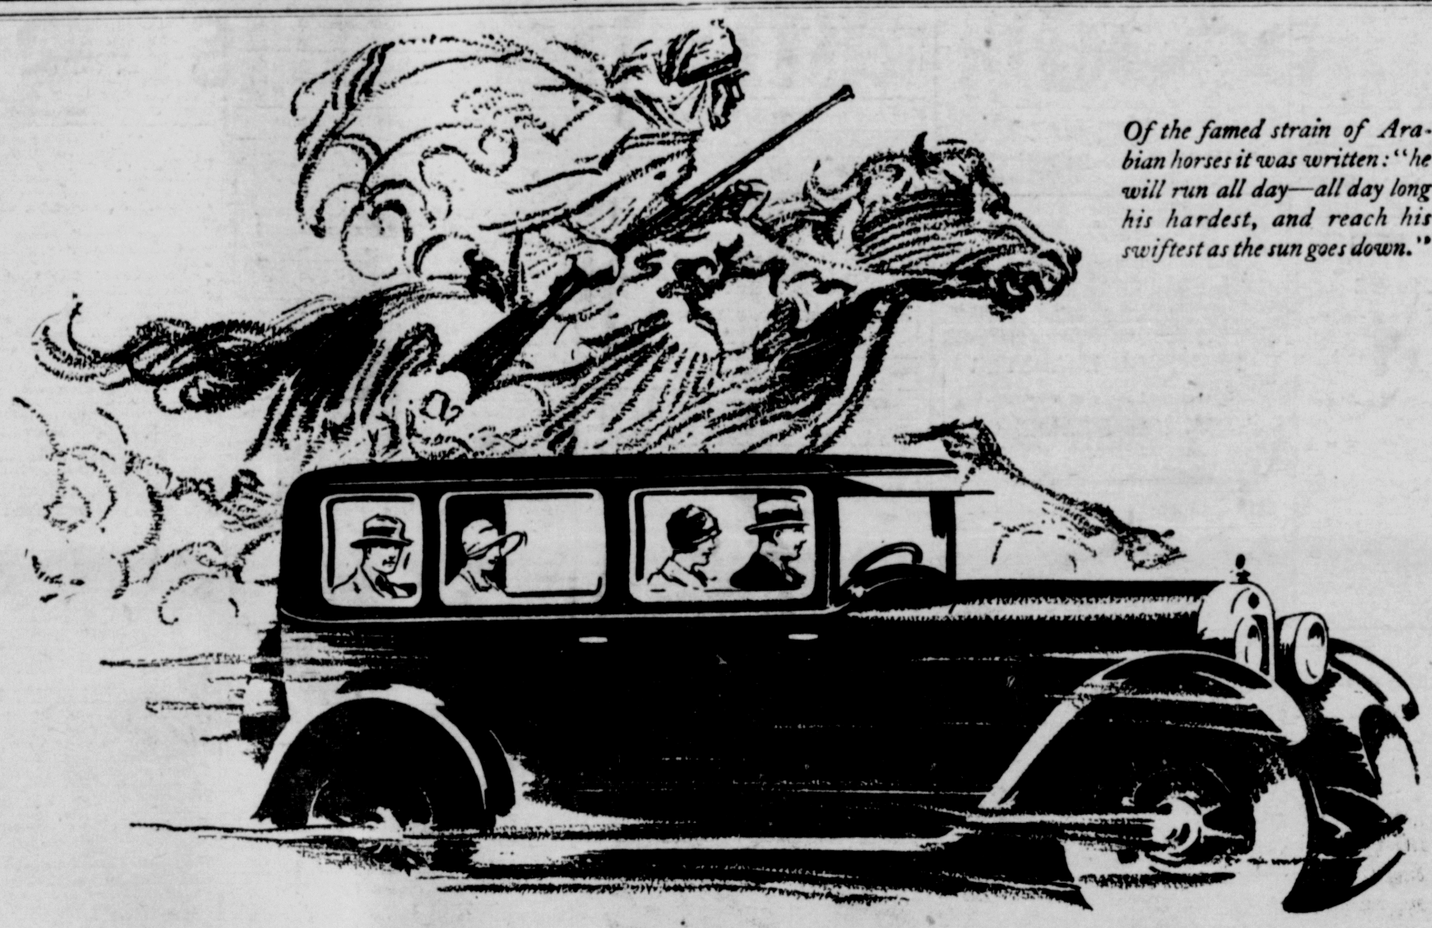

Wash the clothes in water made soft as rain water with Melo. They come out snowy white. Two tablespoonfuls of Melo in the washtub softens the hardest water. Use a teaspoonful of Melo in the dishpan. No more red rough hands and hard-to-wash dishes. Use Melo to wash dishes, clothes, floors, everything. Soft water is good for the skin. Soften the shaving water with Melo. Always use a pinch of Melo in the wash basin.

Keep a can of Melo in the kitchen, in the laundry, in the bathroom, it saves ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap. Get it at your grocer's.

The water in East Liverpool is 9 times as hard as it should be. Two tablespoonfuls of Melo will soften a bathtub full of water. Two tablespoonfuls in the washtubs. One teaspoonful in the dishpan.
